Rescue Work Carried on by Life Saving Station at Great Risk—Seas Heavy

HITS ROCKS IN FOG

Radio Stations Along Coast Pick Up SOS Signals as Boat Pounded by Waves

SAN FRANCISCO, June 28.—(UP)—All members of the S. S. Hartwood, ashore on the rocks a mile southeast of Point Reyes, had been removed from the vessel at 7:45 a. m. today.

Radio reports said that Captain C. M. Engstrom, eight members of the crew and a police dog were removed from the vessel by coast guard boat.

Previously, coast guardmen and members of the Point Reyes life saving crew had safely removed from the vessel the mother and son, and the six-year-old child, who had been picked up by radio stations and ships.

Word of the disaster was flashed to Point Reyes station, one mile from the scene of the wreck and six men immediately put out for the Hartwood.

As the life saving station boat neared the point where the Hartwood was pounding to pieces they came upon a small life boat, in which the captain's wife and the children had taken refuge with members of the crew.

The boat tossed about dangerously near the rocks and with great difficulty the coast guardmen transferred the party of 13 ways, making them into their power boat.

Interesting throughout the night at great risk for the life saving crew, the rescue work was carried on by the coast guardmen and the life saving crew, who were transferred to the scene of the wreck.

It was feared she might be swept out to sea again and plans were being made to take the remaining survivors off the stricken vessel with a breeches buoy.

Officials of the Hartwood lumber company, of San Francisco, dispatched the Red Stack and other tugs to the scene of the wreck.

OIL WORKER IS KILLED WHEN BEAM TOPPLES

Huge Timber Crashes From Top of Derrick in Richfield District

STUCK by a falling beam, John McMillen, 48, Balsa, was fatally injured yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the Richfield oil district. He was hit on the head by a 6x6 timber.

He was working with a drill crew that was bringing tubing out of the well. A chain parted during the operation, letting the large piece of wood fall. He was immediately rushed to the Fullerton hospital but died in about 45 minutes. The body was brought to the Smith and Tutill funeral parlors in Santa Ana. The inquest was held at 4 o'clock this afternoon. Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

The McMillens are pioneers in the Balsa district. Mr. McMillen has many relatives in this section of the county. His brother, Jim, who lives in Fullerton and also works in the Richfield oil fields, arrived at the hospital before his brother died and was at his bedside.

Mr. McMillen is survived by his wife, Mrs. Edith McMillen, one son, Lloyd, 11; two daughters, Mrs. Viola Alfred, Santa Ana and Mrs. Marie McLane, Los Angeles; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James McMillen, Balsa; two brothers, Don McMillen, Balsa and Jim McMillen, Fullerton; and two sisters, Miss Grace McMillen and Mrs. Rachel Bauer, Balsa.

WOMAN BANDIT GETS MUCH LOOT

TOPEKA, Kas., June 28.—(UP)—A woman bandit forced a man motorist to drive her to the offices of the Security Benefit association here today, held up an official of the organization and escaped with $14,000.

She got the money from W. L. Stalons, clerk, after running up to him and warning, "Drop that bag or I'll blow your insides out."

Young Declares Road Commission Not In Politics

SAN LUIS OBISPO, Calif., June 28.—(UP)—Governor Young, en route to Southern California for a two months vacation, was scheduled to speak at a luncheon in Santa Barbara this afternoon.

Stopping for an informal banquet at the Alcatraz inn last night, the governor declared that the state highway commission was "out of politics." New roads will not be built for political or local reasons, the governor said, but only when such construction is economically sound and necessary.

HOOVER INTERVENTION HALTS DRY EDUCATION IN SCHOOLS

WASHINGTON, June 28.—(UP)—Intervention of President Hoover has halted definitely the prohibition bureau's plans to have benefits of the dry law taught in schools, but the $50,000 publicity campaign will continue though on a much less extensive scale, Commission Doran said today.

Dispossession of her "educational" pamphlets, Miss Anna E. Sutter, director of the bureau's statistical and education division, was in Atlanta, Ga., today where she will be prepared to place before a convention of the national education association any requested data that is available.

When congress appropriated $50,000 for educational work on behalf of prohibition, it gave no

John Howard Is Found Guilty Of Killing Partner

LOS ANGELES, June 28.—(UP)—John Lee Howard must hang for the murder of Victor Lee Cooley, his roommate and employer.

A verdict of first degree murder, containing the recommendation for the death penalty was returned by a jury of six men and six women in superior court shortly before noon today.

Judge Carlos S. Hardy set 10 a. m. Monday as the date for pronouncement of the death sentence. Howard seemed stunned at the jury's verdict, but made no comment.

The jury had been out approximately 24 hours.

U. S. SENATOR THANKS FIRM FOR KEG WINE

Maine Solon in Letter to St. Louis Concern Says "Working Lively"

ST. LOUIS, Mo., June 28.—(UP)—The St. Louis Star said today that attorneys for a St. Louis grape juice company involved in a $100,000 damage suit in federal court here, brought out an additional letter today allegedly signed by U. S. Senator A. R. Gould of Maine.

While in the first letter to the defendant company allegedly committed the senator to light wines and beer, the second mentioned difficulty in getting the "bung" out of a keg of the company's product after it had fermented, the paper said.

"It was working quite lively," the letter pointed out. "I don't know how to thank you for all this kindness; but I assure you I appreciate your favors very much and I know I shall have some fine wine out of this shipment."

"I may have an opportunity to do you people some good in Washington and you can rest assured that if there is anything I can conscientiously do during my term as senator I shall do with pleasure."

In discussing the "lively" nature of the keg in question, the letter said: "In fact, the pressure was so great that the head of the keg was bulged. I worked the bung off gradually and finally got the bung out and was surprised to find so much gone. But what there is, is in fine shape, and I have it hoisted up with the goose neck tube, and it is working fine."

The alleged Gould letters are in possession of William Davis, president of the Colony Vineyard, Inc., of St. Louis, which is being sued by the West Coast Vineyards company, Chicago, on charges of product deterioration after sale.

directions for carrying on the campaign, but left that to the discretion of the prohibition bureau.

Posters depicting the economic and other advantages of prohibition have been prepared by the bureau, but Dr. Doran said today there would be no extensive poster campaign. Neither will the bureau carry out its original intention of having an extensive publicity campaign.

Modified plans for the present provide for the collection of data and statistics relative to state and federal dry laws and their enforcement, which will be supplied to the public on request. Some literature of a strictly factual nature may be distributed and a small quantity of posters probably will be posted in federal buildings.

SANTA ANA MAN ENDS HIS LIFE WITH SHOTGUN

R. L. Ballard First Shoots Dog, Then Turns Gun On His Own Head

FIRST shooting his dog "Sport" then turning the muzzle of the double barreled shot gun against his own head, R. L. Ballard, 40, of 2515 North Main street, retired garage operator, ended his life last evening on the ranch of George L. Bates, north of Orange. The dog, according to reports of friends, was the constant companion of Ballard, who evidently desired to take the long trail, when he decided to end his own life.

A note found in the pocket of the victim, addressed to his wife, gave ill health as the reason for his act and admonished her not to mourn his passing.

Ballard saved the barrels from his shot gun, according to the report of Deputy Sheriff A. L. Stewart, who was assigned to the case when it was reported to the office of Sheriff Sam Jernigan at 5 o'clock last evening, for the evident purpose of making it easier to handle when firing the blast that shattered his head and tore the right side completely away. Indications were that the dependent man had first shot the dog then placed the muzzle of the gun against his forehead above his right eye and pulled the trigger of the second barrel.

The act was committed on the ranch of George L. Bates, civil engineer, who was a warm friend of Ballard's, sometime between 4:30 o'clock when a man working at the place left, and 5 o'clock, when George S. Bates, who lives with his nephew at the ranch, drove up to the house with W. E. Nause, of 101 East Almond street, Orange. No member of the Bates family was at home when the suicide was accomplished.

The body was found by the two men near Ballard's car with the dead dog lying close by, and with the gun under the feet of the suicide victim. The spot selected for the act was under a large tree near the Bates home.

Ballard had been in ill health for some time according to Coroner Charles Brown, who announced that an inquest would be conducted at 4 o'clock this afternoon at the Smith and Tutill funeral home.

The note addressed to his wife, Mollie, to whom it was said he was married about 18 months ago, follows: "My dear Mollie—I do not want you or anyone to mourn after me. Just be happy and carefree. Life is sweet but when you are not well it is hell. Lewis."

Funeral services were announced today for 10 o'clock tomorrow morning from the Smith and Tutill chapel, with interment at Fairhaven.

DOUGLAS FAIRBANKS' FIRST WIFE MARRIES

NEW YORK, June 28.—(UP)—Mrs. Beth Sully Fairbanks, first wife of Douglas Fairbanks, is the bride of Jack Whiting, musical comedy actor.

They were married yesterday at the Algonquin hotel in the presence of the bride's father and the parents of Whiting. The names of the former Mrs. Fairbanks and Whiting were linked in theatrical gossip when they attended the wedding of Douglas Fairbanks Jr., Mrs. Whiting's son, to Joan Crawford, film actress.

In July, 1907, Fairbanks married Beth Sully. They were divorced in 1918 and she subsequently married James Evans Jr., a Pittsburgh broker. That marriage also ended in divorce.

CAME, SAW, CAPITULATED KNOXVILLE, Tenn., June 28.—(UP)—Horace B. Berry and Irene Roberts went to the court house to see the first couple of the month married. However, they turned out to be the actors and not spectators. Many couples on the scene withdrew at the last moment. As a result, Horace and Irene won prizes offered by local merchants.

To Construct 600 Cottages At Seal Beach

Entire Frontage to Sunset Beach Is Taken Over By Development Firm

PAYING $1,000,000, the Phillips and Hambaugh Realty company, Los Angeles, has purchased beach frontage from the east city limits of Seal Beach to Sunset Beach, it was revealed here today from reliable sources.

The company plans the erection of approximately 600 small beach cottages on the property, it is understood. The property was secured from the Bayside Land company, Seal Beach.

The Phillips and Hambaugh firm applied to the Seal Beach city council several months ago for permission to use the city's sewer system for the tract, the plan at that time being to lease the property from the Bayside company. No action was taken by the city council.

The purchasers have built several of the beach cottages on their property in the vicinity of Sunset Beach. Instead of selling the cottages after they are built, they are leased for a period of years.

FLYER KILLED IN CRASH; GIRL HURT

OLD WESTBURY, L. I., June 28.—(UP)—Miss Viola Gentry's cabin plane, in which she was attempting to establish an endurance record for light planes, crashed into a tree at Hick's nursery grounds early today and was wrecked. Jack Ashcraft, co-pilot, was instantly killed.

Miss Gentry, bleeding at the mouth, was rushed to the Nassau hospital at Mineola.

Although the extent of Miss Gentry's injuries was not determined at the hospital, physicians believed she had a chance for recovery.

The plane was going west when it struck a tree, about 30 feet high. The plane did not burn.

Miss Gentry was able to tell Henry Hicks, proprietor of the nursery, who was first on the scene, her name. He, and Henry Balkan, one of the nursery workmen, who also witnessed the accident, said it occurred some time between 6:30 and 7 o'clock this morning.

FIVE BUS LINES SEEK FRANCHISE

LOS ANGELES, June 28.—(UP)—Hearing of five applicants for stage operating rights over the new Santa Monica-Oxnard coast highway was put over till next month by Examiner W. J. Hanford of the state railway commission today.

The highway will be formally dedicated tomorrow and five separate stage companies, including the Pickwick system, have applied for permission to route their traffic over the new coast road.

ASSOCIATED CHAMBERS URGE FORMATION OF ORGANIZATION TO SEEK NEW BOND ELECTION

FIRED by an address delivered by Ole Hanson, founder of San Clemente, members of the Orange County Associated Chambers of Commerce who held their monthly meeting in that city last night passed a resolution to form a committee made up of representatives from every chamber of commerce in the county, and representatives from every organization represented in the chambers of commerce that will get together the warring factions of the recent county water bond issue and come to some agreement for another election.

The movement was made by W. J. Carmichael who declared that 15 representatives from both sides of the water question also be on the committee to settle the question. It was also decided to have prominent engineers on the committee so both local and technical points can be agreed upon.

The entire organization was in accord with both Mr. Hanson, and Mr. Carmichael's proposals. The organization voted a resolution of thanks to the committee of engineers who worked on the water bond question, and to Mr. Hanson for his active interest in the campaign.

The movement will be further discussed at the next meeting of the association to be held at Newport, July 9. A speakers' committee to take care of future programs was appointed by Lotus Louden, president, of Anaheim; Thomas Flicker, of Placentia; George Reed, of Anaheim; and Dr. C. G. Huston, of Costa Mesa were appointed.

A constitutional committee composed of Captain H. H. Hammer, of San Clemente; Lew Wallace, of Newport; and Gaston Bastanchury, of Fullerton also was appointed. Over 100 members were present at the meeting. The group had dinner at Travaglini's cafe at 6:30 p. m., followed by the business meeting.

The witness supported the proposal for a three-cent world rate of sugar, which would amount to a preferential duty of 2.4 cents against Cuba. He proposed, however, that when the world sugar price falls below 2.5 cents a pound an additional duty should be levied, equal to the amount the price falls below 2.5 cents.

Pipes opposed proposals previously suggested before the committee for a sliding scale based on the United States selling price. Out of 132 sugar mills in Louisiana, 65 are now idle, Pipes declared.

He testified that he did not believe any of them had made money during the last five years.

Movie Actress Friend Seriously Injured In Crash

LOS ANGELES, June 28.—(UP)—Gladys Brockwell, screen celebrity, was in a serious condition in the Osteopathic hospital here today as a result of injuries suffered when the automobile in which she was riding plunged over a 75-foot embankment late last night.

Miss Brockwell and a companion, Thomas J. Brennan, advertising man, were said to have been on their way to Santa Barbara when their machine left the highway and hurtled down a precipitous grade near Calabasas.

Eyewitnesses reported that Miss Brockwell sustained severe head injuries, including a compound fracture of the jaws, and painful lacerations and bruises.

Brennan was said to have been hurt less seriously.

EXPECTS TO SET ANOTHER AIR RECORD

Wings Way From Atlantic to Pacific in 19 Hours—Mechanics Repair Ship NOT SIGHTED TODAY

Daring Aviator Predicts He Will Reduce Own Mark On His Flight Today

METROPOLITAN AIRPORT, LOS ANGELES, June 28.—(UP)—Capt. Frank Hawks began another assault on the transcontinental flight records at 3:37:47 a. m. today, when he took off for New York. Hawks yesterday established a record of 19 hours, 10 minutes and 32 seconds in a flight from New York to Los Angeles.

Captain Hawks landed shortly after 8 p. m. yesterday. His time bettered by nearly five hours the previous record for the transcontinental trip, established by the late Capt. C. B. D. Collyer and Harry Tucker.

Hawks' Lockheed-Air Express plane was delayed on the return trip when it was discovered the right streamline cowling of the plane had been cracked.

Mechanics worked feverishly getting the plane in shape for the flight, while Hawks slept on a cot at the airport. Shortly before 3 a. m. he was awakened and advised the plane soon would be ready for the return trip.

A few minutes later Hawks climbed aboard the Lockheed and started warming it up.

He circled the airport once and then sped east, the lights on his plane vanishing in a few seconds as the plane roared away after another record.

THREE KILLED AS PLANE HITS WATER

BEACH HAVEN, N. J., June 28.—(UP)—Three men were killed yesterday when a Sikorsky amphibian plane fell into the waters of Little Egg harbor.

An inquest has been ordered for next Monday and today dragnets and grappling irons were being used in an effort to recover the body of Leslie Broome, 22. The other men killed were Frank R. Conklin, 32, Beach Haven chief of police, and Harold Potts, 25, Beach Haven plumber.

The pilot, Paul Micelli, of Brooklyn, and Allison Price, 20, of Beach Haven, a passenger, were injured.

TWO MARCH FIELD AVIATORS KILLED

RIVERSIDE, June 28.—(UP)—Lieut. William G. Plummer and Cadet Cyrus G. Wallace were killed instantly today when their airplane was struck a glancing blow by another plane which was taking off from March army field.

The plane occupied by the two men killed was struck on the tail by the wing of another army ship and was so close to the ground when the mishap occurred that the two flyers could not use their parachutes. The second plane was not damaged.

Lieutenant Plummer's home was in Mobile, Ala., and that of Wallace in San Gabriel, Calif.

MISS MINNEAPOLIS IS NEARING RECORD

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., June 28.—(UP)—Shortly after 2 p. m. today Miss Minneapolis dived by the 129 hour mark on the long road toward a new endurance flight record, the objective, but 481-2 hours away. Owen Haugland and Tharwald Johnson apparently enjoyed the cool, cloudy weather as they lazed over the Twin Cities but there still was a threat of rain.

HOSPITALS ARE BIG PROBLEM FOR COUNTIES

SACRAMENTO, June 28.—County hospitals are one of the most acute problems facing the counties of the state, according to a report of the state department of social welfare.

The Orange county hospital cared for 1756 persons in 1928 and 237 were in the institution at the close of the year. These figures were compiled by the social welfare department, which is the only state body inspecting the hospitals.

With a constantly growing list of applicants for service in these public hospitals, many counties have been forced to map building programs to extend over a period of years.

"It is evident that there is a forward movement all along the line of county hospitals," said Mrs. Anna L. Saylor, director of the department of social welfare. "Much serious thought is being put into their hospital problems by the county boards of supervisors. The unit plan is being favorably considered by many counties. Here a definite plan is drawn of the entire new plant which will be required to meet the growing needs of the county."

"Units of the new hospital are designed, all along the same line of architecture. The expense of such a plant is often too great for immediate expenditure and construction is spread over several years, the county building one or two units each year."

Development of "part pay" beds is noted by Mrs. Saylor as an interesting development of the county hospital.

"This plan has been devised for people of small income," she said. "In many counties there are patients who cannot afford service in private hospitals and have asked permission to enter county hospitals and pay something. This is a system which opens up many opportunities for public service, but it must also be carefully guarded against abuse."

"Close investigation of each entrant coming in under this plan will assure the county that they are not assuming a burden which should and could be carried by the applicant for treatment."

Directors Of 8 Farm Bureaus To Convene Saturday

Farm bureau directors from regions one and two, comprising eight southern counties, will meet here tomorrow at 10 a. m., according to Norman M. Blaney, executive secretary of the Orange county farm bureau. J. A. Smiley, chairman of region No. 1, will preside.

The session will be devoted to discussing means of continuing and improving the effectiveness of the farm bureau organization work. The meeting is to be held in accordance with a recommendation of the executive committee of the California farm bureau education, which suggested that a review of accomplishment be made.

WAR TRAINING IN SCHOOLS IS WANING, CLAIM

PALO ALTO, Calif., June 28.—The practice of teaching young America how to goose-step has been decidedly on the wane in the United States since 1918.

In a book on "Education for World Citizenship" published by the Stanford Press, William G. Carr, reveals that military training in public schools has been steadily declining.

Only 314 high schools, out of 17,710 reporting to his survey in 1926, are offering military drill, a percentage of only 1.8. Out of 1,445,836 boys enrolled in these schools, only 51,318 were taking military training.

This was a percentage of 3.5 as compared to 16 per cent in 1918 and 4.7 per cent in 1924.

Definite opposition to military training among college faculties was found by Carr. Out of 51 professors of secondary education in teachers' colleges and universities only two approved.

Carr's cure for war mania lies in teaching war as it really is, in course that "break down the tradition of narrow nationalism" in studies of world affairs.

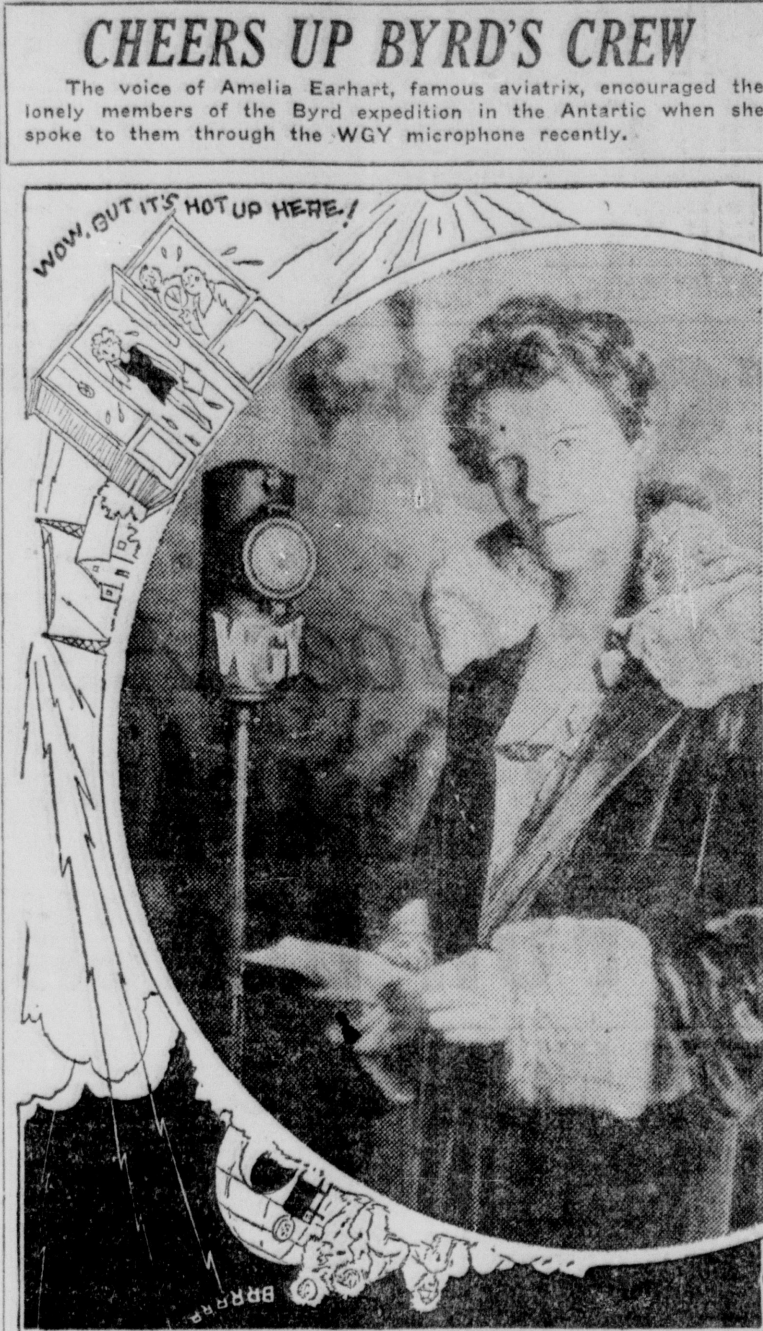

As to military training he says: "Most of the stated aims of military training have been shown to be met by other subjects. Military training in schools cannot be justified as an educational agency. It can be justified only as an emergency measure. Such an emergency, in the opinion of this writer, does not exist. Nor with such a situation exist if we train our boys to value peaceful rather than warlike methods of settling international disputes and turn our best efforts to building in our students a truly civic attitude toward world affairs."

Much effort has been expended by station engineers and officials to get his program down to Byrd past static obstructions of the equator, the phenomenon of the Aurora Borealis and other barriers. Expedition Fights Gloom by Listening to Relatives And Entertainers

(By NEA Service)

SCHNECTADY, N. Y., June 27.—Thousands of miles from civilization, "way down under" with Commander Byrd's expeditions in Little America, radio remains the sole link with the world.

On a wind-swept stretch of frozen tundra, where science has set up one of its farthest outposts, members of the Byrd expedition are hearing from the folks back home through the two short-wave stations of WGY, W2XAF and W2XAD.

Twice a month, on alternate evenings from 10 to 12:30 eastern time, special broadcasts are arranged and presented for the boys down there. And from the response the lonesome fellows isolated on that frigid Antarctic continent wouldn't take anything in the world in exchange for those few minutes of communication with the folks back home.

Much effort has been expended by station engineers and officials to get his program down to Byrd past static obstructions of the equator, the phenomenon of the Aurora Borealis and other barriers. A special directional antenna, designed by Dr. E. F. W. Alexanderson, famous radio engineer, has been set up to throw radio waves due south.

Talent has been secured of the highest type and the main feature of the program, the sending of verbal messages to members of the party by their relations, has been arranged.

Little America receives its program through W2XAF, broadcasting on 31.43 meters and the rest of the expedition, wintering at Dunedin, New Zealand, receives it through W2XAD, broadcasting on 19.56 meters.

These programs are sponsored by no commercial organization, and talent is enlisted from volunteers among first-class entertainers. In the past such celebrated entertainers as Lucrezia Bori, famous Metropolitan Opera star, members of Roxy's "Gang," Major Bowes and his Capitol Theater Party and the Explorers' club have taken part.

Morris Gest, who, it is understood, refused $5000 for the same program, offered the famous Russian choir for an hour's entertainment. This choir is featured in the "Passion Play," which is now being shown in New York. Dr. S. Parkes Cadman, famous radio preacher, also offered his services freely.

Famous explorers have contributed to the entertainment of their fellow adventurers isolated "way down under." Clarence and Mrs. Chamberlin, the former a pioneer trans-Atlantic flyer, gave a short talk. Lady Mary Heath, famous aviatrix, also spoke to members of the expedition, and so did Amelia Earhart.

Gossip From Home
Probably the most pathetic part of the features presented is that of the reading of messages from relatives or the personal appearance before the mike of a mother, a wife or a sweetheart of one of the boys down there.

News and gossip that Jennie won an essay prize at school and "Oh, you should see the three new teeth the baby has," are typical of the homey things that are personal and touching to both sender and receiver.

On one occasion Mrs. George C. Vaughan, of Hamilton, Mass., mother of Norman Vaughan, dog driver with the expedition, appeared before the microphone to talk to her son. There were probably tears in the eyes of listeners who tuned in on the program, for her appearance was a pathetic illustration of a mother's love for her son.

She broke down completely before the mike and for a time could do nothing but sob into the reproducer. The station reports that it received a great many letters from listeners who expressed sympathy for the grieving mother.

When she collected herself, however, she broke some bad news to Norman. His avowed sweetheart, she told him, had announced her engagement to another chap. Which didn't make Norman's spirits leap and bound for joy.

Embarrassing, Sometimes
Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Siple, parents of Paul Siple, Boy Scout with the expedition, also spoke during the programs. The mother closed her part of the program by sending a kiss to her little son. (He's six feet two inches tall and weighs around 200 pounds.)

A report made by WGY tells of the reception that Byrd is getting of these special programs. It also tells of the willingness of entertainers to offer their services.

"We have thus far broadcast eight programs to Byrd and every one sent out on the Byrd antenna, seven in all, has been heard by Byrd and his men through loudspeakers," the station reports. "We have discovered an extraordinary interest in the expedition and in these programs. We have invited many groups of a non-commercial nature to broadcast programs and have met with exceptional interest and co-operation."

"The fact that these men are isolated from civilization by ice and sea, enduring the six months of night of the Antarctic, has a strong dramatic appeal and everyone seems eager to contribute a little something to their entertainment."

Present plans of the station calls for a continuance of these programs until the return of the expedition to civilization.

Local Briefs

Mrs. Patricia Bosse has accepted a secretarial position with the Pacific Coast Record, a publication sponsored by a Los Angeles hotel. Mrs. Bosse graduated from the Johnston Business Institute recently.

The meeting of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce, scheduled for tonight has been postponed, due to the fact many of the members are out of the city.

A heavy truck owned by the Belyea Truck company, of Los Angeles, was badly damaged when its top heavy load, consisting of a nine-ton cement mixer, caused it to overturn when it dipped in a storm drain about 8:30 o'clock this morning on North Main street just across the Southern Pacific railroad tracks. The mixer, about 20 feet high, was apparently undamaged in the fall. Work of righting the capsized truck and mixer will not be undertaken until midnight tonight, when traffic is expected to slacken sufficiently to permit the blockading of the street while the work is in progress. The outfit was on the way to Stanton.

Spin tests, weight tests and landing tests will be conducted at Mines field, Los Angeles, tomorrow by Eddie Martin, Santa Ana aviator, and proprietor of the Martin field south of Santa Ana, for a new model plane being built by the Golden Eagle Airplane company of Inglewood. The test flight will include a series of right and left hand spins and turns to test the safety of the ship.

A raid that was expected to unearth the missing radio operator, William Tallman, accused of the murder of Mrs. Virginia Patty in Los Angeles, June 4, was participated in by Under Sheriff E. E. French and Deputy Harry Carter at Anaheim early yesterday morning. Los Angeles officers, including Captain Kelly of Sheriff Tracer's office, another deputy and three officers from the Los Angeles police department met the Orange county officers at Anaheim and surrounded a house where they had been informed Tallman was in hiding. The tip was found to be false.

John W. Rosser, 53, wanderer was slightly injured on the state road between Irvine and El Toro yesterday, when he was struck by a car operated by Mrs. Minnie Pedlar, 43, of 225 Rowan street, Los Angeles. Rosser, who was pushing a cart loaded with an assortment of junk, ran the cart directly in front of her car. Mrs. Pedlar stated to State Traffic Officer Dan Adams, who conducted an investigation. The accident victim was taken to the San Clement hospital and removed to the county hospital today.

The Orange county 4-H club council will meet at 7:30 p. m. today, at the farm advisor's office, 606 North Main street, according to Assistant Farm Advisor E. E. Eastman, in charge of club work. Plans for the club camp, to be held in conjunction with Los Angeles county clubs at Big Pine from June 30 to July 4, will be discussed.

RIDE IN AUTO TO END BEHIND PRISON WALLS

Prolonging a ride around the block in a borrowed car to include a trip from Escondido to San Diego made R. C. Reed eligible today for a much longer ride. His stopping place will be San Quentin prison.

Reed was in court here in January on a charge of issuing fictitious checks. He was granted probation. Today he was in court for alleged violation of probation. He is asserted to have gained permission from the owner of a used car lot at Escondido to drive one of the used machines around the block, just to try it out. The trial run was more extensive than E. M. Stafford, the owner of the car, had contemplated, and today he was in court to testify regarding the matter.

Superior Judges H. G. Amesent Reed to San Quentin for the term prescribed by law. The prison board practice is said to have been to give probation violators one-half the maximum term for the crime on which they originally were granted probation. This would give Reed about seven years. Deputy District Attorney S. B. Kaufman appeared for the prosecution today. Reed was not represented by counsel.

ED KOLBE NAMED CLERK OF COURT

County Clerk J. M. Backs announced today the appointment of Ed Kolbe, prominent Santa Ana American Legion number and insurance man, as clerk of department three of the superior court. Kolbe will succeed Earl Abbey, who will become master calendar clerk in accordance with the Orange county government bill, which created this position.

Kolbe's appointment will become effective about August 15, Backs said, pointing out that the new law will be operative at that time. The bill also provided salary increases for a number of county officials and employees. The increases will be effective in August for deputies but will not affect elective offices until the beginning of new terms.

FRUIT TRIMMING

SEVEN TIERS

A sweet flowered frock for summer is made of many shades of tiny pink roses against a medium blue background. The frock has seven little circular tiers from flounce-line to chest height. The flounce is finely pleated fabric, all around.

Court Notes

Pronouncement of judgment in the case of Martha Benavides, who pleaded guilty to a charge of possession of intoxicating liquor, which was scheduled to have been made by Justice Kenneth Morrison, today was postponed until July 5.

Four persons appeared before Judge Talbot yesterday in city court with tickets for overtime parking. Two of the defendants, who had permits from the building inspector to leave their cars on the street while working on a job, were discharged. The others, D. H. Dixon and the firm of Foster and Kleiser, paid fines of $2 each. M. V. Ball paid a similar fine for driving through traffic signals.

Fines of $25 each were levied against C. M. Roberts, John J. Carpenter and F. S. Campbell by Justice Kenneth Morrison yesterday afternoon on charges of intoxication. The men, all of whom are Wilmington residents, were arrested early yesterday morning by Deputy A. L. Steward. They were committed to jail upon failure to pay their fines.

The jury trying the case of James Garrett, charged with assault and battery upon his wife, was unable to agree after deliberating from 11 o'clock yesterday morning until 12 o'clock last night and was discharged. The case was reset by Justice Morrison.

Police News

The mystery of milk thefts occurring frequently in the 600 block on West Fifth street was solved at 5 o'clock this morning by Officer Clyde Flower, who apprehended two boys, ages 13 and 14, paper carriers, in the act of making way with the milk. The boys told the officer they were hungry. They were turned over to probation authorities this morning after they finished carrying their route.

The prisoner population at the county jail continues to dwindle. The total this morning stood at 118. There are six women and six federal prisoners confined.

Sergeant E. E. Perry and Officer Paul Cozad answered a phone request for an officer at once to a North Main street address yesterday. They acted as peacekeepers in an argument over a repair bill on a truck.

Albert Quintana, 26, truck driver, of 1325 East Second street, was arrested by Officer J. W. Foster at 9:30 o'clock last night on a charge of intoxication and violation of probation.

Boys shooting firecrackers in the 600 block on South Parion street at 6 o'clock last night were apprehended by Officer C. W. Wolford after a complaint from a resident of that neighborhood. The boys were released after they promised to refrain from celebrating in advance of the Fourth.

Neighbors in the 1400 block on West Second street complained to police last night of a noisy party in progress in that community. When Detective Sergeant E. E. Perry requested persons at the party to be more quiet he was informed they would do as they pleased. Residents of the neighborhood who filed the complaint with police were advised by Perry to take the matter up with the city attorney.

Donald Beers, 21, barber, living at 911 Amoroso street, Venice, was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Harry Carter in a barber shop at Santa Monica yesterday on a charge of non-support of minor child.

Criticizes Stand of Register

June 27, 1929.
Mr. J. F. Burke, Publisher-Editor, Santa Ana Register, Santa Ana, California.

Sir: I have read with interest your editorial in the Wednesday issue of The Register, and am in full accord with your sentiment that "this is not a time to complain of disappointments. It is the hour when the forces who recognize the seriousness of the situation and the necessity of action should capitalize the tremendous sentiment which has been created for the solution of the problem."

You next propose that, as the flood control plan is "a job for engineers," the various municipalities shall appoint a committee made up of their own city engineers or someone from the outside selected by them to represent their separate interests, and "let the matter be decided by engineers." Should your suggestion take root in a hotbed of local politics you would instantly have a storm of righteous protests descend upon your head questioning you and your motive.

Right here, at the start, you again place the whole project back in politics, and it is mainly because many of us believe Mr. Paul Bailey's report is primarily that of a politician rather than that of a trained and experienced engineer that the bonds were defeated last Tuesday, June 25.

I believe the people of Orange county should rigorously insist upon the immediate appointment of an engineer of unquestioned ability, integrity, and experience—absolutely free from every political affiliation—in finish working out the necessary details of the alternate plan for a dam at the upper Prado site, which all the engineers to date have pronounced the superior location from purely an engineering standpoint. We need a man whose sole concern, unhampered by too much advice from "special interests," shall be to work out the best plan possible for water conservation for Orange county; not one of whom it can be said that he may be furthering his own ambition for a political career.

Let us guard against repeating our recent mistake of mixing politics and engineering, and make a supreme effort to select a small non-partisan group to advise with; whose unassailable ability, wide experience, and business integrity shall preclude all suspicion of individual preference; and be a real guarantee of their single-minded interest in the welfare and development of Orange county.

If you wish to publish my letter in its entirety with a view to evoking some helpful discussion on this all-important subject you are at perfect liberty to do so. Trusting that you will appreciate my attitude is not one of antagonism, but only of constructive criticism, I am,

Most sincerely,
(Mrs.) Suzanne Bixby Bryant.

GOVERNOR WILL STUDY MOONEY CASE EVIDENCE

By HOMER L. ROBERTS
United Press Staff Correspondent
(Special to The Register)

SACRAMENTO, June 28.—(UP)—Will Tom Mooney go free?
That's the question on everyone's lips at the state capital these days, as the time approaches when Governor Young begins his study of the question of whether Mooney shall remain in prison or not.

Bombarded by evidence supporting the contention that Mooney was "railroaded" into prison on perjured testimony, following the Preparedness day parade bombing of 1918, in which 10 persons were killed and scores injured, the governor has promised his entire vacation to the study of the case.

That vacation will begin shortly after July 1, and will be taken "somewhere in Southern California." Records in the case include eight or 10 bound volumes, weighing nearly 15 pounds, passed to Governor Young by his predecessor, Friend W. Richardson; a 2000-word petition written by Mooney while in prison, and a large number of photostatic exhibits.

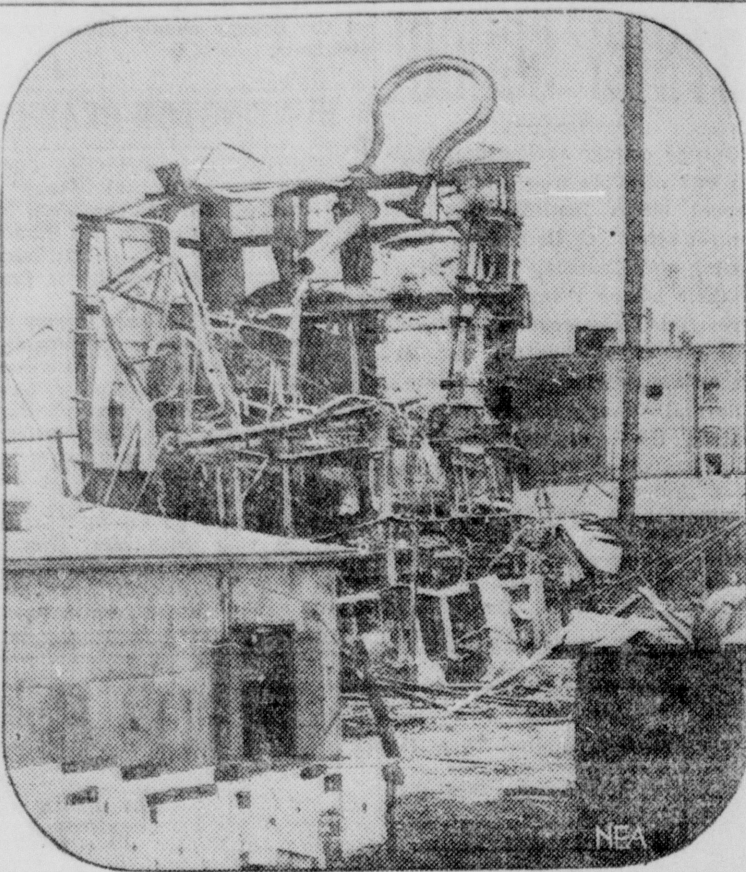

Mooney, who is now 46 years old, has spent the last 13 years in San Quentin prison. During this time he has changed from an energetic, youthful labor leader to a white-haired emaciated old man.

Originally condemned to die on the gallows for participation in the alleged crime, Mooney was later given a life sentence by Governor William D. Stephens as a result of intervention by President Woodrow Wilson.

Since then the trial judge who heard and sentenced Mooney, nine of the 10 surviving members of the jury which convicted him, and many of those connected with the trial have come forward to say they believe him innocent. Even the San Francisco police officer who investigated the bombing case is convinced Mooney is not guilty. Warren K. OIL REFINERY WRECKED

One was killed and 15 others seriously injured when the boiler of the "secret process plant" of a Grana, L.A., oil company exploded mysteriously and shot through the roof to come down through another plant 500 feet away. The plant was wrecked completely and windows for miles around were shattered.

STATE TEACHES CITIZENS HOW TO FIGHT FIRE

SACRAMENTO, June 28.—(UP)—Citizens of California—young and old—are being taught to fight against the state's greatest scourge—forest fires.

Under the direction of the state division of forestry, agents have just completed a demonstration tour of the entire state, displaying the modern equipment used to combat fires.

Woodbridge Metcalf and J. P. Fairbanks of the University of California extension department were in charge of the tour.

Starting out the first week in March with a truck equipped with modern pumps, hose, nozzles, fire extinguishers and hand tools, they held demonstration meetings from Mendocino and Tehama counties on the north to San Diego county on the south. In three months they travelled more than 6000 miles and held 114 demonstrations, attended by 12,000 people.

Fires were built during lectures and those present shown how to extinguish them with the apparatus.

"Our average meeting was attended by more than 100 persons, of whom about two-thirds were school children," Metcalf said, discussing the trip.

"The boys and girls seemed most interested in the charging, care and use of the different types of extinguishers, back pumps and hand tools. When called upon to put out a small fire with these, it did not take them long to discover that they made ideal weapons for a water fight as well as for putting out fires. Some clothing usually suffered in consequence."

Possibility of reduction in grain insurance premiums through installation of fire fighting apparatus particularly interested grain men throughout the state, Metcalf declared.

"We told of reduction in rates effected by several districts which have prepared themselves to take rapid and effective action on fires," he said. "Many grain districts visited are now ordering fire apparatus of the type we demonstrated."

The chief cause of forest, brush, grass, and grain fires were discussed and the necessity for greater care with fire and the cleanup of hazards was stressed. Particular attention was paid to the careless use of matches and tobacco as the primary cause of field and forest fires.

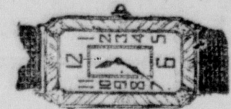

Autoist Wins In Fight With Tree Pole and Plant

TOLEDO, O., June 28.—(UP)—Marty Karow at Ohio State or Herb Joesting at Minnesota or Ernie Nevers at Leland Stanford were fullbacks exceedingly hard to stop. But then so was Clyde Winterholder of Defiance when he "rammed around" East Toledo recently.

Winterholder drove his car into a tree. The next obstacle was a telephone pole, which was snapped. He backed up a four-foot terrace, wrecked a rubber plant, then, smashed the front porch of a home.

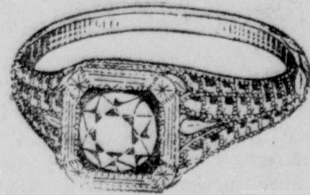

Driving while intoxicated was the charge preferred against him when he was arraigned in police court.

WILL ENFORCE HIGHWAY STAND HEALTH RULING

By HOMER L. ROBERTS
United Press Staff Correspondent
(Special to The Register)

SACRAMENTO, June 28.—(UP)—Warning to hot dog stands along state highways and concession stands at county fairs, summer and beach resorts, was voiced today by the California state board of health, in a statement declaring that all places serving soft drinks must comply with the state law requiring sterilization of drinking utensils.

"Many of the proprietors of such stands are failing to live up to the letter of the law," said the board, "and it is possible that several arrests may be required before the regulation is properly enforced."

Four methods of sterilizing governor. If the governor releases Mooney, it will doubtless mean the release of Billings. It is stated. Neither of the two will accept a parole. It would virtually mean a confession of guilt, and both insist they are not guilty.

of drinking glasses and other receptacles permitted under the board of health rules, are as follows:

1. Sterilization by steam in an apparatus acceptable to the state board of health.

2. Immersion for fully five minutes in boiling water. To avoid unnecessary breakage it is advised that glasses be placed in cold water and the container heated until the water boils.

3. Immersion in 5 per cent solution of lye or caustic soda, preferably hot, but not necessarily boiling. To accomplish this, a solution of lye is made of a strength of one pound of lye to 2½ gallons of water. As this solution is irritating to the skin, the receptacles should be placed in a wire basket, immersed in the solution for five minutes, then the basket carried over to a water bath to remove the lye solution.

4. Individual paper or wooden receptacles.

The dog and soda, stands along highways are subject of most of the complaints, many coming from tourists, the board says. Glasses in which the drink is served are frequently immersed in a container full of water, either cold or hot, and the perfunctory sloshing about they receive is not enough to cleanse them thoroughly.

SAYS STORIES OF REVOLUTION ARE MYTHICAL

NEW YORK, June 28.—(UP)—Mollie Pitcher's heroism during the Revolutionary war is only a myth. Ethan Allen's single handed capture of Fort Ticonderoga is a myth. Israel Putnam's ride down a stairway, outwitting the British, is a myth and so is the story of that blue and buff were the colors of the Colonials, according to Robert W. Chambers, novelist, who has been making a study of the history of that period.

With a bow to his fellow novelist, Rupert Hughes, who exploded the Washington and the cherry tree legend, Chambers, writing in Woman's Home Companion declares that much of that which is

She could travel around the world in luxury. But Fraulein Clairenne Stinnes, daughter of the late Hugo Stinnes, German capitalist, is "roughing it" on a globe-circling automobile tour with C. A. Soderstrom, Swedish sportsman. They are shown here as they arrived in New York from California to start the last lap of their 25,000-mile motor jaunt.

The son of one of the world's wealthiest men, Hugo Stinnes Jr., is accused of defrauding the German government of 4,000,000 marks—nearly a million dollars. He, an heir to the late German industrial leader who was accredited with being the richest man in Europe, has been brought to trial on a charge of manipulating war bonds.

HOLD FUNERAL OF ACCIDENT VICTIM

ORANGE, June 28.—Funeral services for Leonard W. McAndrews, 30, who was injured at the new St. Joseph's hospital, were held this morning from the Catholic church, with the Coffey funeral home in charge.

McAndrews was struck by a heavy piece of concrete which fell 55 feet, hitting him on the head and fracturing his skull.

At an inquest held at the Coffey parlors, a verdict of accidental death was returned. McAndrews is survived by his wife, Nellie; six small children, who live at the family home, 327 South Center street; his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Walter McAndrews and a brother, Earl, also of Orange.

RATTLESNAKES ADD INTEREST TO RAIL WORK

ALTURAS, Calif., June 28.—(UP)—If you are not afraid of rattlesnakes, come on up here and get yourself a job—"working for the railroad."

The Southern Pacific is constructing a new track through the River valley near here. C. W. Mapes, local contractor, got the contract for fencing the right of way. But hundreds of the rattlers abounding in the region where the posts were being cut, don't like the idea of their homes being disturbed.

Two men narrowly escaped being bitten last week and forthwith decided that they would look for another job. Others have threatened to quit if the reptiles continue their battle against civilization.

He adds that the Continental congress, instead of being selflessly devoted to the cause, was perhaps the most stupid, mean-minded lawmaking body that has ever gathered. Another myth shattered by Chambers is the legend that the Colonials were in rags, adding that some of the colonies provided uniforms that have never been surpassed for attractiveness.

Writing of the dissipation of Washington myths, Chambers says that "out of the thick and pious incense cloud which has befooled the plaster-saintlike figure known to the world as George Washington, is being slowly revealed a superb and lovable human being more splendid by far when stripped of the polychromatic skin which has so long stultified his stature and hidden from us the real man of flesh and blood."

Fighter Decides He Won't Appeal

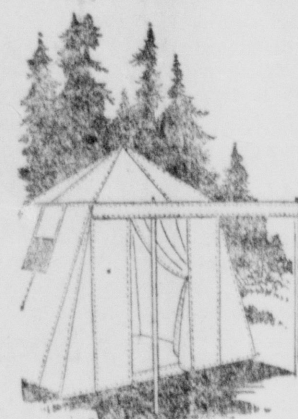

PORTLAND, Ore., June 28.—(UP)—William McConnell and L. B. Thompson, neighbors, fought to a draw here recently.

They carried their fight into court and both lost. "It is the judgment of the court that both of you are equally guilty of assault and battery. The fine will be $10 in each case," said Judge Mears.

Thompson agreed to pay the fine, but there was some doubt as to whether McConnell would until the judge spoke up again. McConnell wanted to appeal his case. He was informed that no appeal could be taken when the fine is less than $20.

"I'll be good to you and make the fine $50 so you can appeal," Judge Mears said. No appeal was filed.

MUSEUMS ARE PLANNED FOR EARLY TRAILS

By ELWOOD SQUIRES
United Press Staff Correspondent
(Special to The Register)

SACRAMENTO, June 28.—(UP)—Trails and highways over which the covered wagons creaked are soon to be marked throughout northern California with museums, containing relics of the days of gold.

The work will be undertaken by the Trails of Forty Nine committee of the Sacramento Region as a means of preserving the traditions and relics of the frontier days.

The crumbling jail at Old Shasta where Joaquin Miller, famous poet of the Sierras, was held on horse theft charge, will be marked with a building, containing mementoes of the man. The Old Pitt Ferry, where Joaquin, as a boy, served as cook for a gang of miners will be indicated by another building. It was the trick-some task of making bread on this job that prompted the future poet to depart on a horse that belonged to someone else.

California's mountains and foothill regions are a veritable mine of romance and memories. The land of Bret Harte, Salome Jane, Tennessee and his Partner, Joaquin Murietta, the famous bandit; Mark Twain, Kit Carson and many other characters of reality and fiction has long been a mecca of tourists. Every spot that is famed through some anecdote connected with one of these 49'ers will be labeled.

Some of the men and women who played a part in those stirring gold rush days are still living and their remembrances will go a long way in helping to definitely locate many of the historic spots now almost forgotten.

The majority of Bret Harte's characters were taken from real life and an earnest effort is being made to determine the homes of these persons. The old cabin of Tennessee and his Partner still stands in one of the deserted mining towns.

Northern California was the theater for the gold rush days. The first gold strike was made at Coloma, on the American river. Shortly after the most romantic

NEWLY ELECTED MAYOR

This dazzling photo, introducing the newly elected mayor of St. Petersburg, Fla., in attractive southern surroundings, may throw some light on why his job was sought by that famous Beau Brummel and veteran politician, Major Amos Hoople. For the garrulous star of the "Our Boarding House" comic actually did receive one vote for mayor of St. Petersburg, and despite the protests of certain board members, that vote has gone into the official election records of the city. The Mayor expressed himself as being "tremendously gratified, egad, with such a powerful expression of confidence and admiration on the part of the public" and has sent his congratulations to Mayor Arthur R. Thompson, above, for his victory at the polls. The poles in this picture, however, are being operated by four beautiful, bare-legged fishermen, and left to right they are Verna Clyde, Sherman King, Anne Dewberry and Alice Mohan.

and adventurous spirits of the middle 19th century had turned toward California. Covered wagons filled the roads leading to the land of gold, bringing the fortune seekers whose bravery, hardihood and carefree life have filled so many pages of fiction and history.

Freak Windstorm Moves Buildings

WOODBRIDGE, Calif., June 28.—(UP)—This weather was "unusual," to say the least.

HEALTH FINER NOW THAN FOR TWELVE YEARS

Had Been In Dreadful State Ever Since Operation 9 Years Ago. Sargon Restores Her.

MRS. CORA BALL
"Nine years ago I was operated on for gall bladder trouble. I was in the hospital six months and have been in poor health ever since. I had severe headaches and one bilious attack after another. Pains in my shoulders and back was so intense that I could not lie comfortably and would have to try to sleep sitting almost straight up in bed. Many a night I would not close my eyes, and if I did doze off I would awake suddenly gasping for breath, like I was going to smother."

"When I finally did get up on my feet I was so weak and dizzy I was almost helpless. My system was filled with poisons resulting from constipation, and my skin and the whites of my eyes turned as yellow as a pumpkin. 'I haven't had a pain since my first bottle of Sargon. I don't have any more stomach trouble or bilious attacks. My nerves are in perfect condition, the smothering spells have disappeared, and I sleep like a child. My whole system was strengthened and I am in better health than I have been in twelve years. Sargon is worth its weight in gold."

"My skin has a good healthy color and everybody says I am looking like a different person."

The above statement was made by Mrs. Cora Ball, Box No. 93, Route No. 4, North Kansas City, Mo. Mrs. Ball is the mother of eleven children and is highly esteemed by her friends and neighbors.

The sensational success of Sargon has become the talk of the drug trade. Carload after carload of the new medicine is being sold and the demand grows daily as word of its remarkable health-building powers continues to spread. Tens of thousands of people have taken this revolutionary medicine with the most astonishing and gratifying results, and well-known men and women from all walks of life have testified in the public press to its wonderful merit. Sargon may be obtained at the Schramm-Johnson Drug store.—Adv.

EDUCATORS ARE WORRIED OVER SMALL SCHOOLS

By ELWOOD SQUIRES
United Press Staff Correspondent
(Special to The Register)

SACRAMENTO, June 28.—(UP)—The one-room school house where a single teacher reigned supreme over all eight grades—that's where dad and mother got their education if memory serves us.

"There was the good old days," you muse nostalgically. Don't be too sure those days are gone, for there are just 1525 such places of learning in California, 37.2 per cent of all the schools in the state! However, these schools only have 3.7 of the total registration in the state.

Orange county has one of the one room schools, comprising 1.2 per cent of all the schools in the county.

The problem of the one room school is causing some worry to the state Department of Education, according to Walter E. Morgan, chief of the bureau of research and statistics. "We are studying this question," said Morgan, "with the idea of achieving consolidation, much as the high schools of the state have done. The one room school house is an anachronism and must be eliminated as rapidly as possible." Educators agree that detailed study of the distribution of population, prospective pupils, roads and other facilities for transportation, community interests, financial resources and other factors must enter into the subject of consolidation. Some counties of the state must be content with the one-teacher school for many years, because of their mountainous character and other obstacles to transportation in the county. Other counties could start consolidation at once with mutual benefit to all concerned.

In a recent report issued by the state Department of Education it was pointed out that slow progress of elementary school consolidation is due in many cases to the question of taxation. Most one-teacher districts have no local tax levy for their school and would be unwilling to enter into a consolidation arrangement as it would require a tax levy for its support.

Magnesia Best for Your Indigestion

Warns Against Doping Stomach With Artificial Digestants

Most people who suffer, either occasionally or chronically from gas, sourness and indigestion, have now discontinued disagreeable diets, patent foods and the use of harmful drugs, stomach tonics, medicines and artificial digestants, and instead, follow the advice so often given in these columns, take a teaspoonful of four tablets of Bisurated Magnesia in a little water after meals with the result that their stomach no longer troubles them, they are able to eat as they please and they enjoy much better health. Those who use Bisurated Magnesia never dread the approach of meal time because they know this wonderful anti-acid and food corrective, which can be obtained from any good drug store, will instantly neutralize the stomach acidity, sweeten the stomach, prevent food fermentation, and make digestion easy. Try this plan yourself, but be certain to get Bisurated Magnesia especially prepared for stomach use.—Adv.

PREDICT CABINET RADIO POPULARITY

The housewife will make 1929 a "cabinet year," according to a prophecy made at the fifth annual radio convention held in Los Angeles this week.

This convention was based on the fact that the woman, more than ever before, is now doing the actual purchasing of a radio for the home. As a result, speakers stated, the housewife's eye for beauty of design as well as quality, will demonstrate a marked preference for cabinets.

With an excellent representation from this city, as well as every other town in Southern California, the Atwater Kent convention went down in history as the largest radio dealers' meeting ever held on the Pacific Coast.

DIRECTOR

Not only does she double as concert pianist, but she redoubles as accompanist, narrator, booker and continuity writer at KMOX, St. Louis. She's Alice Maslin, whose regular job is that of program director. She's seen service in the business world and program studios in Europe. And she's also assistant to the station manager.

OLYMPIANS SING SPECIAL NUMBERS

If you turn your dials to KGO at 9:30 p. m. today you will catch the Olympians singing before microphones in the Oakland studio of the General Electric company.

This favorite quintette of male singers offers the more popular type of music. All of the Olympians' numbers are special arrangements. Mynard Jones, basso and director of the group, is the arranger.

Michel Penha, solo 'cellist with the San Francisco symphony, will furnish the western artist series concert over KGO at 10:00 p. m.

FRACTIONAL SETS

The average radio set today has five and one-quarter tubes, according to the National Radio Institute of Washington, D. C. Two-thirds of the radio-owning families have less than five tubes, one-twelfth have more than six tubes and less than one-thirtieth still own crystal sets.

GUEST IS TO BE FEATURED BY MAJESTIC

Edgar Guest, America's favorite poet, will head the program that Wendell Hall, a Master of Ceremonies of the Majestic Theater of the Air, will present on Sunday at 5 p. m. Pacific standard time, in a nation-wide broadcast of stations of the American Broadcasting company and the Columbia Broadcasting company.

In 1925, 14-year-old Eddie Guest was selling sodas in a Detroit drug store. One of his regular customers was the bookkeeper of the Detroit Free Press. Eddie confided to the bookkeeper that his ambition was to be a newspaper man, and the result was a job marking up baseball scores on the blackboard for passing baseball fans.

After the baseball season, Eddie stayed right on with the Free Press. Later he was put on the exchange desk. There he first began to throw in a verse or two of his own, until he was assigned a column. Today Edgar Guest's poems appear daily in almost 200 American newspapers.

In addition to Mr. Guest, the Majestic program will boast the services of two vocal soloists. Harry McDonald will sing "The Whip Song," "Desert Song" and "Old Man River" while Redferne Hollinshead, the Majestic tenor, will render D'Hardelo's "Because" and Tosti's "Goodbye." Arnold Johnson and his popular orchestra will contribute two medleys among them a medley of melodies of home.

The following American Broadcasting company's stations will broadcast this program: KJR, KGA, KEX, KYA, KMTR, KDYL, KLZ.

What Dr. Caldwell Learned in 47 Years Practice

Dr. Caldwell watched the results of constipation for 47 years, and believed that no matter how careful people are of their health, diet and exercise, constipation will occur from time to time regardless of how much one tries to avoid it. Of next importance, then, is how to treat it when it comes. Dr. Caldwell always was in favor of getting as close to nature as possible, hence his remedy for constipation, known as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, is a mild vegetable compound. It can not harm the most delicate system and is not a habit forming preparation. Syrup Pepsin is pleasant-tasting, and youngsters love it. It does not gripe. Thousands of mothers have written us to that effect.

Dr. Caldwell did not approve of drastic physics and purges. He did not believe they were good for human beings to put into their system. In a practice of 47 years he never saw any reason for their use when a medicine like Syrup Pepsin will empty the bowels just as promptly, more cleanly and gently without griping and harm to the system.

Keep free from constipation! It robs your strength, hardens your arteries and brings on premature old age. Do not let a day go by without a bowel movement. Do not sit and hope, but go to a druggist and get one of the generous bottles of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Take the proper dose that night and by morning you will feel like a different person. Use for yourself and members of the family in constipation, biliousness, sour and crampy stomach, bad breath, no appetite, headaches, and to break up fevers and colics.

Dr. J. C. Caldwell M.D.
AT AGE 83

TWINS PLAN CHANNEL SWIM

It must have been one of those jokes with a double meaning. For the Zitenfeld twins, who are perfect doubles for each other, doubled up with laughter when they heard it—which makes this picture doubly interesting. The 15-year-old New York twins—Phyllis, at the left or right, and Bernice, at the right or left—are shown above in Dover, England, where they're in training for a double swim across the English channel.

MAY SUTTON BUNDY DEFEATS EILEEN BENNETT; SENORITA D'ALVAREZ LOSES TO UNKNOWN

WIMBLEDON, England, June 28.—Sensation followed sensation at the all-comers Wimbledon tennis championships here today. Mrs. May Sutton Bundy, of California, who 22 years ago, before her marriage, won the all-comers and the English woman's tennis titles, eliminated England's youthful star, Eileen Bennett, to enter the quarter-finals.

Seven thousand spectators who sat beneath a broiling sun had just seen a comparatively unknown English matron, Mrs. C. G. McLaughlin, defeat the lithe and flashy Spanish star, Senorita Lili D'Alvarez, generally conceded to be the closest rival of Helen Wills.

Mrs. Bundy, with her peculiar service working 100 per cent, started even the complacent English in the crowded cosmopolitan crowd of spectators, by winning the last five games straight.

The elimination of Miss Bennett, taken with the fall of the young English star, Betty Nuthall, yesterday, was a bad blow to English hopes. Miss Bennett was seeded fourth in the present tournament, in which Helen Wills was seeded first and Senorita D'Alvarez second.

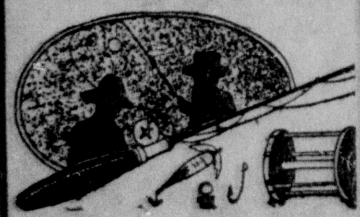

The elimination of Mme. Mathieu by Miss H. Tapscott of South Africa, first thrilled the crowd. Then Senorita D'Alvarez, fell by the wayside before Mrs. McLaughlin and the crowds thought that the ultimate surprise was theirs. But then the slashing top spins of the veteran Mrs. Bundy and her superior court craft overwhelmed the flashy English star, Miss Bennett, and the crowds could but gasp their amazement.

"Don't be silly," she said. "It wasn't anything. But just the same it feels very nice."

Helen Wills won her way into the quarter finals by defeating the Belgian champion, Miss J. Sigart, 6-2, 6-3. Helen will meet Miss E. L. Heine next.

"Big Bill" Tilden continued his advance through the field of the world's men tennis stars, entering the select eight in the quarter finals by defeating the left-handed French star, Christian Boussus, 6-3, 9-7, 6-4.

Almost simultaneously, however, John Hennessey, young Indianapolis star, was eliminated by Henri Cochet of France, 6-3, 6-4, 9-7. Cochet also going into the quarter finals.

THEY EAT IT FOR SUPPER

As late as nine o'clock at night, in 1926, when we were covering the British amateur championship at Muirfield, we saw golfers flocking over the courses and some of the laborers told us that they never went out on the course before seven o'clock and that they usually made at least nine holes.

In every village in Scotland there is a commons, a sort of a public square, and the natives use the putting green just as some of our rustics use the front street for tossing horseshoes.

HERE GOES THE RECORDS

Two leading coaches have predicted that George Simpson's remarkably 0.09 4-10 100-yard dash would probably be equalled and perhaps exceeded in the rarified and stimulating atmosphere at Denver where the National A. A. U. track and field championships will be held on July 3, 4 and 5. And strange as it may seem, one is Simpson's own coach, Frank Castleman.

Just before Simpson crashed through with his record feat at the N. C. A. A. games at Chicago, Castleman predicted that Simpson would do 0:09 4-10 at Denver. After the meet Castle-

Week's Results
Santa Ana 5, Anaheim 3.
Long Beach 6, Olive 3.
Huntington Beach 6, Olive 3.
Orange 12, Garden Grove 2.

Making their first appearance since they humbled the Anaheim Colonists and went into first place in the Orange County league, Santa Ana's Stars swing into action in the Bowl here tonight against Huntington Beach.

This will be the last conference start Santa Ana will make on its home field until July 19. Its next two league games, with Olive and Orange, will be played on foreign soil.

While the Stars are trying to hold off the Huntington Beach threat, Anaheim will go against a highly improved Orange aggregation that might cause the Colonists considerable embarrassment, and Garden Grove will be "at home" to the Olive Cardinals.

Acorns Play Anaheim Tuesday
Long Beach, which is virtually on even terms with Santa Ana, will not play until Tuesday when it faces Anaheim at Long Beach in one of the biggest and most important contests of the second round.

The Stars are not expecting such a strenuous opposition from Huntington Beach as they received from Anaheim but they realize the Olers are no set-up for anybody, despite their somewhat poor record in the standings column.

Huntington Beach has not played in the Sixth and Olive street park this summer so another big turnout is expected by night ball officials. The Olers have a colorful group of regulation baseball players. Many of them campaigned with the Republic Supply company in past seasons, and they know what the game is all about. They gave Santa Ana a whale of a fight for seven frames when the clubs met early in the year at Huntington Beach but "blew" sky high in the eighth and ninth, the lone scoring eight times in those chukkers to win, 9 to 4.

Huntington Beach also gave Anaheim a couple of real arguments but lost both times, 4 to 3, and 6 to 4.

Millard or Gardner
"Husky" Millard and Joe Gardner are the first string Oler gunners. It is not known which will work this evening. "Bromo" Seltzer and Baher have been doing the Huntington Beach catching. Other well known pastimers on the team are Joe Rodgers, Perry Callahan, Ted Dietzel and "Lefty" Beeson.

Glenn Stockbridge probably will work for the Stars. The lanky submariner was in trouble frequently at Anaheim last Friday night but he will go better with that one under his belt. Joe Ochoa had to bear down too hard in a City league fracas Wednesday night to start again tonight. Ochoa turned in a one-hit game against the Hawley Sportsmen and he had to win because Mearl Youel, his City league rival, was almost as Scotch with his hits as Ochoa.

"Benny" Wilcox will do the catching. The local receiver got crack on the end of one of his fingers in the Anaheim game and welcomed the rest of the past week but the digit is giving him no more trouble. Bill Cole, Bill Foote, "Memphis" Hill and Darwin Scott will be in the infield and Valne Nelson, Orville Schuchard and "Rosey" Merrill in the outfield.

U. C. Baseball Player Dies In Orient

BERKELEY, June 28.—Edward Larrieu, 22-year-old second baseman for the touring University of California baseball team, died en route from Japan to Honolulu, according to word received by university authorities here today.

Death was attributed to paralysis and Clinton Evans, coach of the team, who had been playing exhibition games in Japan, wired that other members of the team would be placed under medical observation on their arrival in Honolulu tomorrow.

Night Baseball Popularity Will Get Test

The popularity of night baseball will be put to the acid test here tonight. Twenty-five cents will be the adult admission charge at the Orange County league game in the Bowl between the Santa Ana Stars and Huntington Beach.

Night baseball officials, facing indebtedness of more than $600 found it necessary to increase the tariff for country league games for the rest of the season. The same old levy, 10 cents, will be imposed for City league and exhibition tussles.

El Corral and Hawley Sporting Goods have game to play.

You can't keep a champion down all the time. If you think you can ask those patient souls who weathered the agony of that 19 to 8 ball game in the Bowl last night.

The Santa Ana Ice company was champion of the Santa Ana City league last summer. This year they did an about-face and headed for the cellar championship. The Ice-men simply couldn't win for losing in the first three weeks of the season. But last night they took out on the El Corral Cowboys all the abuse they themselves had absorbed from the other contenders.

Running amuck in the fifth inning, the Ice-men knocked the veteran Horace Snow out of the box with a concentrated attack that was little short of manslaughter, making nine solid basehits, a walk and an error count for ten runs. The Ice-men batted over a half the game and during the course of this rally.

It was apparent that Snow was not himself as early as the first inning when the 1928 champions scored three times, and to this lead the Ice-men added two more in the second on Ewe's long home run and Lane's double and an error.

Elwood Lindley, a high school boy with no previous night baseball experience, replaced Snow in the sixth and did nicely considering the support he received. Bob Nelson went the route for the Ice-men and was never in trouble. He eased up a bit in the last two innings behind a tremendous lead, the Cowboys making six of their eight counters in those periods.

Santa Ana and Huntington Beach, Orange County leaguers, take charge of the Bowl tonight. The score:

SCHMELING IS BEAR HUNTERS IMPRESSIVE IN KILL FIVE ON BIG N. Y. BOUT ALASKAN TRIP

BY DAVIS J. WALSH
(I.N.S. Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, June 28.—Fifteen years ago, the Kaiser dreamed of world dominion, the silly, empty dream of a mind that knew vanity as its engrossing emotion. Today, he sits at Doorn, alone, unhonored, and waits for death while the world he sought to conquer by force lies at the feet of a former subject who, wiser than the master, is content to conquer only on the field of sport.

The world is not yet Max Schmeling's for the mere asking but one more victory such as that scored over Paulino Uzcudun, the Spaniard, in 15 rounds at the Yankee stadium last night and the foaming stein will be the water bucket and the pretzel the favorite bouquet of fistiana. Schmeling today needs another step up the ladder and the heavyweight championship of the world will be his, to have and to hold until the better man comes along.

A Man as Destiny
He will try to take that crucial step in September in a final bout of the heavyweight series against Jack Sharkey, the volatile one, and many last night in the Milk Fund's crowd of 40,000 seemed convinced that ultimate failure would not and could not be his.

Unbeaten in five American starts and with successive victories over Risko and Paulino, they regard him now as a man of destiny. Schmeling was only a lad just out of his toddling kilts when the Germans broke over the borders of Belgium in 1914 but from the tenth round onward last night he was just another fighting Prussian of the old days, staunch in adversity and desperate in his will to win. Going into the tenth round of what had been a dull fight and fairly even one, he fairly out the stout, old Basque into human hamburger with short, chopping, punishing punches and, at the end, Paulino was a pitiable sight as, with eyes all but closed and his face a vague, unhuman smear of crimson, he tottered on the verge of a knockout for the first time in his career.

The knockout didn't materialize but Schmeling was quite without blame in the matter. He hit that staunch old whalebone that Paulino carries directly below his lower lip with punch on punch with almost cruel monotony.

Like Stricken Animal
The Basque, not unlike the stricken animal in the bull ring just before the kill at his own Seville, stood braced in mid-ring, his mouth open and glazed eyes peering agonizingly out from the puffed and bleeding lids, and took the rain of blows on a head unbowed.

He reeled but he didn't fall. His knees buckled and drooled but they didn't forsake him altogether. Paulino was a stirring figure in defeat, although a greswome one.

Schmeling was equally impressive in victory. He looked the part of a downright good fighter once his handlers sent him out to fight.

They said afterward that they were "pacing" him. If this is the case, I would timorously suggest that they try him out hereafter in some of the trotting events. Schmeling, much after the manner of the rest of the world, is a good fighter only when he fights.

His own version of the circumstance after the fight was that he injured his favorite right hand on Paulino's favorite eyebrow in the fifth round and that, thereafter, he had to fight largely with his left, supposedly an inferior weapon.

First Rounds Tame

Whatever the reason—and this wasn't it—one must go thumbing through the dictionary for another word for courtesy in order to call this fight a fight at the end of nine rounds.

Neither had done anything to the other on a very large scale. The first two were Schmeling's because he was willing to let go with a left hand and Paulino

DECISIVE WINNER

Here's a new picture of Max Schmeling, German heavyweight, who decisively outpointed Paulino Uzcudun in a 15-round contest in New York last night.

FORMER SAINT CAPTAIN HEADS FOR DENVER U.

Roger ("Doc") Hearn, captain of Santa Ana high school's football squad last season, will head for Denver university when the thud of foot against pigskin is heard next fall, according to well founded reports current here today.

There he will enlist under "Jeff" Cravath, of Santa Ana, former University of Southern California captain and coach, who recently signed a three-year contract as head football mentor for Denver U.

Other Santa Ana and Orange county high school athletes are expected to follow the path of the former All-American center to the Rocky Mountain conference.

Hearn was graduated from high school here in February after serving three seasons as end and tackle on Coach "Tex" Oliver's squad. He is now working with his brother in the oil fields.

Otto Gardner, former Santa Ana football and track star, who went to Montana and became one of the greatest basketball players in the west, is in town for a vacation and he put in a good word for the Denver institution. Gardner predicted great success for Cravath in his new coaching undertaking.

JONES IS LATE STARTING; AL GENE HAVE 142

BY FRANK GETTY
(United Press Sports Editor)

WINGED FOOT GOLF CLUBS, Mamaroneck, N. Y., June 28.—Gene Sarazen and Al Espinosa were tied for the lead in the van of the field at Winged Foot today with aggregates of 142 at the half-way mark.

The two professionals, closely pursuing Bobby Jones who led the field in the first round, both played steady and, at times, brilliant golf.

Sarazen added a 71 to his 71 of yesterday, while Espinosa had a par 72 to join the 70 he shot Thursday.

This par left Bobby quite a mark to shoot at despite his 69 on the opening day, for a high wind was blowing up over the west course at mid-day.

Jones was not out to go out until 2 p. m. at which time most of the field in the National Open would have completed the second round.

Low scores in the tournament here today, totaled with those of yesterday, are as follows:

Gene Sarazen, Flushing, 75-71—142.

Walter Hagen, New York, 81-78—157.

Louis Chiappetta, Hartford, 79-78—157.

C. W. Gamber, Pontiac, 71-76—147.

Al Espinosa, Chicago, 72-70—142.

George B. Smith, Moorestown, 77-77—154.

Jim Barnes, unattached, 78-78—156.

Peter O'Hara, Verona, 76-74—150.

John Golden, Patterson, 79-79—158.

Densmore Shute, Worthington, O., 71-73—144.

Joe Kirkwood, Chicago, 82-75—157.

Larry Nabholz, Houston, 71-74—155.

Dan Williams, Westfield, 76-78—154.

Ted Longworth, Ft. Worth, 82-76—158.

Willie Hunter, California, 77-76—153.

HOLLYWOOD, June 28.—Berta Collma, Mexican middleweight will meet Everett Strong in the main event at the Legion here tonight. The bout is advertised as an elimination to produce an opponent for Ace Hudkins.

Fines collected from violators of fish and game laws in the present fiscal year to date totaled $73,463.

PLAYFUL FIREMEN SET GRASS FIRES

OROVILLE, Calif., June 28.—(UP)—When business gets dull with the local fireboys, they set their own blazes and then put them out. It wasn't intended to be quite as deliberate as that, but the chief, A. A. Norton, and some of his assistants were burning grass to clear off fire hazards during the afternoon. The group saw the fire was safe and moved on to another site to do some burning. An alarm was turned in by neighbors and the department sirened their way to the vacant lot and put out the blaze. When the chief came along as the last spark was being stamped out and told the boys that this was his fire—and set it all over again.

The High Cost of Fatigue

The first cost of your typewriter means far less to you than the cost per thousand words it turns out in the hands of your operator. Afternoon fatigue will reduce the speed and accuracy of any stenographer, no matter how skillful or conscientious she may be. But the L. C. Smith operator can maintain her morning speed and accuracy right through the afternoon and wind up the day as fresh as ever. This is a strong statement, but we are willing to prove it by placing an L. C. Smith in your office for a trial.

The High Cost of Fatigue

The first cost of your typewriter means far less to you than the cost per thousand words it turns out in the hands of your operator. Afternoon fatigue will reduce the speed and accuracy of any stenographer, no matter how skillful or conscientious she may be. But the L. C. Smith operator can maintain her morning speed and accuracy right through the afternoon and wind up the day as fresh as ever. This is a strong statement, but we are willing to prove it by placing an L. C. Smith in your office for a trial.

5000 Attend Band Concert In Birch Park Thursday

VOCAL SOLO IS PRESENTED BY CLUB DIRECTOR

BY RUTH ANDREWS

At the second program of the summer series now presented weekly by Santa Ana Municipal band, under direction of D. C. Clamfoni, an appreciative audience of approximately 5000 again gathered in Birch park last evening, echoing the success of last week's opening concert.

Well-defined rhythms of the abnormally staccato March "Chicago Tribune" (Chambers) made vigorous prelude to a well-contrasted program selected from modern composers, with a generous sprinkling of old favorites offered as encores.

Vivacious gaiety enticed in the venture from Thomas' lyric opera "Mignon." Subdued opening of clarinet with very gradually augmented brass melted into melody of tender grace, followed by delicate and animated. Repetition of the familiar theme in more impassioned crescendo blended in the vivid type dance, with taunting tambourine ever-present, the frenetic tempo abruptly concluded.

Much applause followed the band's admirable reading of the new "Ballet Egyptian" by Luigi, modern Italian composer. Characteristically accented Oriental rhythms and harmonic modulations alternated with ever-shifting eastern color. Instrumentation echoed the typically Oriental note with emphasis of native oboe, clashing cymbal and tambourine and tinkling bell. Full-throated melody ever delicately interwoven, betrayed the Italian soul of the composer, while the finale, rich with emphasis of brass, closed brilliantly.

Brief announcement was made by Harry Hanson, president and manager of the band, concerning increased seating facilities to be provided. Hanson also outlined plans for "Cadman Night," a special program to be featured in August, when compositions of the noted Hollywood composer will be presented. Presence of Cadman, together with a soloist whom he will personally accompany, will prove an additional attraction at that time.

Undying melody of the favorite Quartet from "Rigoletto" (Verdi) was an enjoyable surprise number, portrayed with ardent feeling. Margherita, Marsden, popular mezzo-soprano and director of the "Treble Clef" club, was heard as soloist, in Leonovello's radiant "Matinata," vibrant beauty of tone, clarity of diction and expressive personality combining to charm her audience. Spirited swing of "Wait or the Wagon" by Mabel Woodworth, local composer, proved a happily-chosen encore, continued applause bringing the favorite lyric, "I Passed by Your Window."

Miss Ruth Armstrong at the piano effective support with customary grace and certainty.

Sensuous languor of the loved "Barcarolle" from Offenbach's "Tales of Hoffman" was presented with delicacy, glowingly contrasted by a selection from De Koven's popular "Robin Hood." Buoyant youthfulness, and wealth of skilfully woven, delightfully melodic themes explain the great favor everywhere accorded this American gem of romance, the band's presentation last night being thoroughly enjoyed.

Waldteufel's dazzling "Española" waltz was suggestively Spanish, ever a favorite, with stimulating, brilliant finale, while a spirited martial medley of sacred favorites made stirring conclusion to the thoroughly appealing program.

QUEENS

The trend seems to be back toward brunets, according to recent choices of several college queens. These three brunets were chosen by Rolf Armstrong, nationally-known beauty expert, as the most beautiful girls at the University of Arkansas. They are, top to bottom, Mildred Fletcher of Little Rock, Wilma Glover of Lonoke and Bonnie Mintum of Fayetteville.

Historical Body
Meets Tomorrow
In Mission City

Members of the Orange County Historical society will hold a meeting at San Juan Capistrano Saturday afternoon, at which time Mayor Thomas F. Murphy of San Clemente will present a report of his efforts to locate for all time the birthplace of Christianity in California. S. M. Davis, secretary of the Orange County Historical society, has called the session and has invited all interested in Southern California history to be present.

Proof that the birthplace of Christianity took place near San Clemente is borne out in the diary of Father Juan Crespi, who came up to Alta California from Mexico with the first land expedition in 1769, Murphy says.

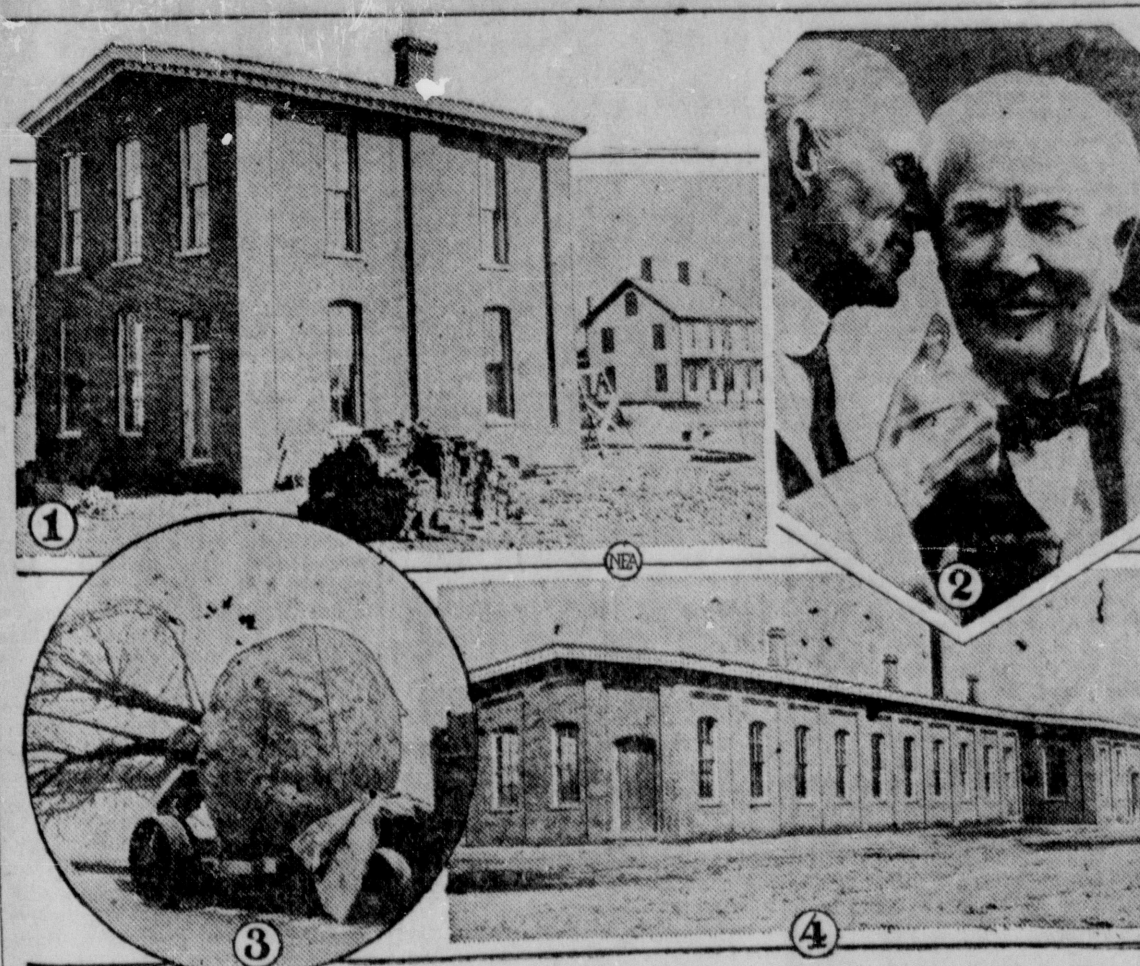

Mayor Murphy hopes that a shrine will be erected as near the spot as possible and should permission to erect it on land of the Santa Marguerita rancho be refused, the mayor will offer a park site in the southern end of the city of San Clemente for the shrine.

STATE BOASTS
19,464 BARBER
SHOP EXPERTS

Although Californians certainly are not hair-brained, they evidently are overwhelmingly hair-minded. And there's a difference. As a matter of fact they perhaps should be called haircut-minded or whisker-minded. Figures revealed today by Joe Steele, owner of a Sycamore street barber shop, showed that it takes a great many tonsorial experts to keep men and women of this state shaved and trimmed to suit their taste.

The figures revealed showed that there are more barbers in California than in the combined states of Oregon, Washington, Idaho, Wyoming, Nevada, Utah and Colorado. On June 1, 1929, there were 19,465 barbers in the Golden state. This total was reported to Steele recently by B. A. Lovett, inspector, and C. E. Rynearson, secretary for the state board of barber examiners. Lovett and Rynearson were in Santa Ana on a regular tour of inspection.

Practically all the state's barbers are licensed, the figure being 18,700. One hundred and seventy-five barbers are working on permit while 588 are apprentices, according to information given to Steele.

Evidence that the state board of barber examiners is functioning in such a way as to assure Californians of the best shop condition was seen in the announcement that between July 1, 1928, and June 1, 1929, a total of 102 shops were closed because of insanitary conditions. A number of these places reopened later after their method of operation had been changed, Steele said.

Patrons of barber shops are entitled to clean towels and tools, sterilized before use, Steele pointed out. Avenue near El Modena on April 24, 1928. The defendant claimed that the boy had run in front of his car and was guilty of contributory negligence. Fred Forgy, Santa Ana attorney, appeared for the plaintiff while the defendant was represented by H. L. Dearling, Orange attorney.

Independence Day Is Motif For Pretty Luncheon

Red, white and blue of Independence Day were the colors used yesterday in the appointments of the attractive luncheon given by Mrs. L. Zimmerman at her home, 224 South Flower street, for members of the Grand club.

Flowers were in white and red and the pretty gifts awarded at the conclusion of the amusing croquet games were wrapped in white tissue and tied with blue and red ribbons. The attractive prizes, a bit of lovely glassware and an adorable doll were won by Mrs. Lulu Hall who was high and Mrs. A. R. Mitchell low.

Throughout the afternoon, the hostess was assisted by her sister-in-law, Mrs. Mina Zimmerman. The next meeting of the club will take place July 11.

Those present for yesterday's affair were Mrs. N. Elledge, Mrs. Mina Zimmerman, Mrs. L. M. Threlkeld, Mrs. E. D. Rucker, Mrs. J. F. Holloway, Mrs. Lulu Hall and Mrs. A. R. Mitchell.

Two New Members Are Initiated Into Club

Two new members were initiated into the Flying Needle club yesterday when it met for a delightful luncheon given at the attractive home of Miss Virena Bailey of 1041 West Sixth street. They were Mrs. Dora Johnson and Mrs. F. A. Brown.

The large luncheon table was centered with a pretty doll dressed in pink and holding a placard bearing the name of the club. A hint of what initiation into the club would mean was given in the amusing place cards at the covers laid for the two candidates.

After the initiation ceremony, the afternoon was devoted to sewing for which a prize was won by Mrs. Dora Johnson.

Those enjoying the affair were Mrs. Johnson, Mrs. F. A. Brown, Mrs. Elvyn Kintz, Mrs. Elvira Kurtz, Mrs. Jessie Snee, Mrs. Marie Barnes, Mrs. Elizabeth Erickson and the hostess, Miss Virena Bailey.

Miss Mildred Murphy Wedded at Lovely Ceremony

Among the hundred or more guests who last night attended the beautiful wedding of Miss Mildred Alice Murphy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest L. Madden of East Seventeenth street, to Marcus A. McClure, son of Mrs. Nellie McClure of Los Angeles, were scores of Santa Ana friends who have followed the remarkable career of the bride since her girlhood school days in this city.

The scene of the nuptials was set in the beautiful Elks clubhouse of Los Angeles, where the rich furnishings of one of the main chapter rooms, loaned themselves beautifully to an impressive wedding service. Steps rising to the dais at one end of the room, provided a true altar at which the young people stood to take their vows, and they were banked with glorious blossoms in all tones of pink and rose. Tall cathedral candles added their soft glow to the artistic lighting arrangement, and completed the harmonious setting.

The Rev. Father Henry Eumelen, pastor of St. Joseph's Catholic church of this city, and a lifelong friend of the bride descended the steps, followed by Mr. McClure, attended by his brother, Edmund McClure as best man, and by the remaining two of a quartet of brothers, Messrs. Robert and John McClure, who had served as ushers.

Entering from the opposite end of the long room was the bride's party led by the ring bearer. This was little Ellen Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Smith of San Francisco, but formerly of this city where Mr. Smith was assistant superintendent of county highways. The little maid was daintily frocked in the pink chiffon, and bore the slender wedding circlet on a snowy satin pillow embellished with lace and French bows of satin.

Mrs. Dorothy Van Frank, who had been a close friend of the bride since their college days in Berkeley, was a charming honor matron in an airy gown of delphinium blue tulle and chiffon, its long skirt a foaming mass of flounces. The close fitting bodice had touches of delicate pink chiffon, whose color was repeated and emphasized by her great arm cluster of pink roses combined with delphiniums. It will be of interest to the bride's friends to know that her honor matron is the only woman teacher of commercial law in the Berkeley high schools.

Miss Murphy entered on the arm of Mr. Madden, and was truly a picture in her lovely gown of satin and tulle. The bodice in princess effect, was beaded in an elaborate design of pearls and rhinestones, with duchess lace at the throat line. The very bouffant skirt was a succession of graceful tulle flounces reaching to the toes of her slender satin slippers. From the little Juliet cap of pearls which confined her dark tresses, the full folds of her wedding veil swung in a long train. Her flowers of bride's roses and lilies of the valley, were tied with white shantung lace and knotted with unbordered satin ribbons with sprays of lilies of the valley.

The tones of the organ which had offered a succession of lovely old airs in the half hour preceding the ceremony, and swelled into the Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin as the nuptial party entered, modulated into the softly rendered notes of "The Rosary" as the Rev. Father Henry Eumelen read the marriage service in his impressive manner.

Mr. McClure and his bride paused for an informal reception before leaving the procession of their guests to the spacious dining-room where long tables had been reserved and where the orchestra played "Lohengrin" as the party entered.

The tables were brilliant with flowers and tall candles in pastel tones, while rose-petal nut cups at each place, rang gay little joyous chimes from their white jeweled bells. The towering wedding cake was placed before the new Mrs. McClure for her to cut the first slice, after which it was served with ice in various appropriate molds, and coffee.

Leaving last night for a motor trip north, the young couple will include British Columbia in their travel plans, and returning will make their home in Los Angeles, where Mr. McClure is prominent in business circles as a member of the quartet of brothers who own the National Automobile Insurance company.

He is a graduate of Massachusetts Institute of Technology at Boston, and is a Native Son of California and Los Angeles, where his mother, Mrs. Nellie McClure was long a prominent teacher in the city schools. Mrs. McClure was very striking last night in a formal gown of soft gray. Mrs. Madden chose a deep blue georgette handsomely embroidered. For traveling, Mrs. Marcus McClure selected a gown of brown with smart top coat trimmed with fur, and close-fitting little hat to match.

Since her return from New York City where she not only took post-graduate work at Columbia University, but was connected with several large hospitals and similar institutions of the east in her capacity as a psychiatrist and specialist in mental conditions, last night's bride had been connected with the staff of the James Foshay junior high school as special advisor and worker in the psychological field.

She recently completed a tour of Europe with Christopher's party of guests, and among the messages of congratulation received last night, was one from him, cabled from abroad.

Pastor of Santa Ana Church Officiates At Wedding

The Rev. George A. Warner, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church of this city, officiated Wednesday at the wedding of Miss Orle Bullard and William S. Walker of Los Angeles that took place at the Little Church of the Flowers in Glendale.

Mr. Walker is the son of Mrs. A. Walker of Orange and is well known in this city.

The bride's charm was enhanced by the simple white satin wedding gown that she wore with long tulle veil falling from a close fitting turban. Her flowers were Cecil Bruner roses and white sweet peas. She entered the church upon the arm of her brother, Alvin Bullard, who later gave her in marriage.

Miss Isabel Gernard, wearing orchid georgette and carrying orchid and pink sweet peas, was maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Miss Phoebe Froelich and Miss Alice Parsons and they were gowned in yellow georgette and carried arm bouquets of sweet peas.

Little Miss Marlene McGurdy in dainty frock of pink silk made an adorable flower girl. Dewey Albright served Mr. Walker as best man.

Clyde Umhey sang two lovely solos, "Unlil" and "I Love You Truly," preceding the ceremony and he was accompanied at the organ by Miss Viola Tolle who later played the wedding marches. A reception at the home of the bride at 837 South Bikel street, Los Angeles, was held for the bridal party and relatives after which Mr. and Mrs. Walker left for a honeymoon in Northern California. On their return they will make their home in Los Angeles.

Wedding in Redondo Beach Interests Many Folk

Miss Dorothy Penry of Fort Worth, Tex., who has visited in this city a number of times as guest of her cousins, Mrs. Victor Montgomery and the Misses Louise and Gertrude Montgomery, was married to Carol Edward Houlgate of Los Angeles Wednesday evening at a dignified service performed by Mr. Houlgate's father, the Rev. Mr. Houlgate, at the First Methodist Church of Redondo Beach where the Rev. Mr. Houlgate was formerly rector.

The wedding was formal and took place at 8 o'clock with the bride lovely in white satin and lace and her bridesmaids in pretty frocks in tints of the rainbow. The bridal party stood before the channel rail that had been covered with a lattice work of roses and gladioluses intermixed with fern. Great jars of gladioluses about the church completed the decorations.

The wedding music that preceded the ceremony was presented by Miss Louise Montgomery of this city who sang Cadman's "At Dawning" and "I Love You Truly" by Carrie Jacobs Bond. She was accompanied by the church organist, Mrs. John Grigsby.

Following a honeymoon, the couple will reside in Los Angeles where Mr. Houlgate, who attended the University of Southern California, is publisher of the Standard Oil monthly magazine.

Miss Penry is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Penry of Fort Worth, her father being one of the state's best known lawyers. She has been attending the University of Southern California and is a member of the Kappa Delta sorority.

Santa Anans who were invited to the wedding included Mrs. Victor Montgomery, Miss Louise Montgomery, Miss Gertrude Montgomery, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Nisson, Mr. and Mrs. M. Nisson, Mrs. Davidella Hamilton, Joseph Hamilton, and Mr. and Mrs. Tarter Montgomery.

Director of Religious Education and Wife Are Honored

Walter D. Kring, new director of religious education at the First Presbyterian church, and Mrs. Kring, who arrived here recently from Columbus, O., were honored last night at a reception given at the church by the Rev. O. Scott McFarland, pastor of the church, and Mrs. McFarland.

As guests arrived in the church parlors they were greeted by the Rev. Mr. and Mrs. McFarland, Mr. and Mrs. Kring, Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Youel, Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Plavan, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Gall, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Moore and Mrs. Ben Blee.

The large rooms were particularly attractive last night with great baskets of gladioluses and hydrangeas in tones of lavender and yellow arranged in artistic fashion.

The early part of the evening was devoted to the presentation of a musical program that included violin solos by Georgia Belle Walton, tenor solos by Hayden Bolander, and musical readings by Margaret Gaebe, Miss Ruth Armstrong accompanied at the piano.

Dr. H. MacVicker Smith acted as master of ceremonies and following a clever little talk he introduced C. E. Hawk who represented the Sunday school and young people's organizations of the church in an address of welcome to Mr. and Mrs. Kring.

R. C. Smedley, secretary of the Y.M.C.A., spoke for the men of the church and the officers in a brief talk.

Mrs. J. R. Moore spoke in behalf of the women of the church in welcoming Mrs. Kring to Santa Ana.

Greeting from Santa Ana churches were extended by Fred R. Chambers who is director of religious education at the First Baptist church.

Mr. Kring responded with a delightful address in which he expressed his pleasure at being in Santa Ana.

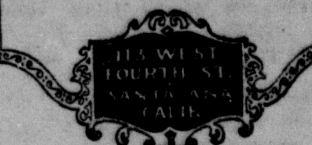

During the social hour, refreshments were served by a committee headed by Mrs. I. L. Hofer.

Enjoy healthful fruits and vegetables...

Flavored with sugar they are delicious

"My FIRST RULE for healthful eating," said one of the foremost food scientists in this country, "would be to insist on at least one dish of raw vegetable salad and at least one raw fruit every day."

"My second rule would be very similar—to eat at least one cooked vegetable and one cooked fruit every day. You can vary the fruits and vegetables according to the season, their price, and your taste."

His next remark emphasized the value of sugar in making fruits and vegetables so palatable that people would eat them, not simply for their beneficial results, but for general enjoyment of their flavors. "Sugar," he explained, "is the greatest of all condimental foods. It brings out the natural flavor of fruits and vegetables."

It is important that people enjoy the food they eat. Otherwise they will not eat a varied enough diet. Sugar, nature's most perfect flavor, plays a part in making almost all the foods we eat more inviting.

A pinch of sugar improves the flavor of nearly every vegetable. Remember a dash of sugar in cereal, in tea or coffee, in all milk drinks. Most foods are more delicious and nourishing with sugar. The Sugar Institute.

The MIXING BOWL

by ANN MEREDITH

Season for Drying Rose Leaves for Sachet Bags

Roses are now at the height of their glory so why not save and dry enough rose leaves to make a sachet bag for your linen closet and bureau drawers? Pick them just when the roses are nicely opened out—this is the time when the perfume is the strongest.

Dry them on a sheet spread on the floor of an unused room and store in air-tight paper sacks when dried. Along with the drying rose leaves dry whatever fragrant herb grows in your neighborhood...lavender blossoms and leaves, rose geranium leaves...lemon verbena, thyme, mint leaves. When ready to mix and put in bags add a few whole cloves and bits of stick cinnamon and loosely fill small bags made out of a double thickness of chiffon.

Rose sachet in delicate pink, blue or orchid chiffon bags make adorable Christmas gifts, and it isn't a minute too soon to begin to anticipate that time.

Fish Chowder for Four
6 or 8 slices of bacon, diced
4 potatoes, cubed
1 large onion, sliced thin
1 small can tomato puree
4 slices of fish
2 tablespoons butter
Salt and pepper
1/2 cup thin cream

I believe a casserole or a dish that can be sent to the table is the best utensil for the chowder...you see, the fish is not to be stirred or turned while cooking.

Dice the bacon and fry to extract the fat, add to it the cubed raw potato and sliced onion and fry gently to partially cook the vegetables.

Wash and wipe the fish slices, salt and pepper them and roll in flour. Lay the slices over the vegetables and pour around them the small can of tomato puree, add the butter in bits, cover and let simmer away until the fish is well done. Heat the cream and pour over the fish after it is taken from the fire—and don't be disgusted if it curdles a little, that does not hurt the flavor a bit.

Serve the chowder with hot tea biscuits, a salad if you are so inclined, and a fruity dessert.

2000 calories make up the total in the fish chowder and that allows for as fatty a fish as salmon. Red Snapper or halibut would be somewhat less.

Have you abandoned the canning of all berries because they "cook up" and look mussy? Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for the current leaflet, STEAMED BERRIES WITH A NATURAL FLAVOR, and try my way. You need no expensive equipment, just time and an artist's appreciation for a real work of art, for that is what berries are canned my way.

No picnic is complete without its cake and cakes have a fashion of standing travel "not so good," yet cake we must have! I want you to try the recipe I am giving for tomorrow for just such occasions: it is called Coffee Drop Cookies.

The WOMAN'S DAY

by AILENE SUMNER

Here's a warning to all ladies who call other ladies "cows." None less than the one and only Fannie Walsh, perennial flapper herself, is being sued for $50,000 for calling one Mrs. Laura Wilson "a cow."

By the way, have you ever noted the superior vocabulary when it comes to hurling epithets at other women which women have over men? Men do not go in for live-stock terms as women do. Women promiscuously hurl about the word "cow," "old cat," "snake in the grass," etc.

Women are much more apt to use names against other women, anyway, than are men. Probably because male enemies have more effective ways of getting even.

ONE WAY OF GETTING IT

Old age pensions now being discussed by the federal government are one way of forcing offspring to care for their aged parents. The offspring'll do it through taxation because they must, but they can blind themselves to the spectacle of an aged parent's need if that parent won't invoke the law which says that children must support indigent parents.

One of the queerest streaks of nature is the way parents will fight to support their children while the children in turn never fight for their parents, but are concerned only in their own offending.

New York police dragged the rivers the other day for the body of a 13-year-old girl who left a note saying that she had committed suicide because her school-mates laughed at the shabby, hand-down clothes of her older sister which she was forced to wear. The girl was later found. The tale is unique inasmuch as there is any school child left who has to wear shabby clothes.

The general run of things is merely that the parents wear the shabby clothes while the kids run in silk stockings and silk dresses.

VITAL STATISTICS

Man has gained 20 years of life

during the last 60 years, and married people live five years longer than unmarried ones. These are some recent facts found by a bureau of German experts studying the statistics of health for the past quarter century.

The only comment to the first part is a wonder what man is doing with his 20 extra years, though the same 60 years which gave him the extra 20 have also given him many more enjoyments for his time.

WHY?

The report explains that the greater longevity of married people is probably as much due to the fact that sickly people do not marry, as that marriage itself is especially beneficial, which is more interpretation than most statistic makers ever go into, generally letting the public make their own interpretations.

WHO CARES?

"Housewife" or "housekeeper" is not a fitting title for today's wife, according to Mrs. James J. Storrow, chairman of the Massachusetts Better Homes Committee. She suggests "home hostess" or "budget-keeper."

Which seems awfully trivial. Have you ever noticed that the very people in the midst and thick of a job are the very ones who never care so much about their titles and rights, et-al, as the ones on the outside observing them? I never heard a hard working wife and mother bother about her title, but I have heard dozens of club women with servants fuss about it.

HOW SHE SUFFERED

Practical joking to the extent of letting his wife find him on the floor apparently dead, a knife by his side, and red paint spilled all about him, cost Mr. Lemoine Higgs of Marlon, Ind., a divorce from the wife on whom he played the practical joke. She got it on the grounds of mental anguish.

While the "joke" was a little

WALKER

Within the past few months new processes, marvelous in their intricacy, have been invented by the world's leading engineers and installed in moving picture studios to make new talking marvels. Now, for the first time, these marvels are revealed to the public. The inside working of a motion picture studio, with all the apparatus on view and the thrilling excitement which goes into the making of any moving picture, is an integral part of

Neil Hamilton, Doris Hill in "The Studio Murder Mystery" A Paramount Picture

Paramount's new all-talking mystery thriller, "The Studio Murder Mystery"—and the Walker theater is featuring this picture today and Saturday.

This story, the action of which concerns the hunt for a clever double slayer in the absorbing atmosphere of a motion picture studio, is far-fetched, one wonders that if the Mrs. wasn't caused such "mental anguish" she wasn't sufficiently relieved to find it was only a joke to forgive anything.

phere of a motion picture studio, contains all the thrills and suspense which, when it ran as a serial in Photoplay Magazine, set 2,000,000 people agog. Now this story lives on the all-talking screen.

An excellent cast, composed of stage and screen stars of acknowledged ability, enacts this drama. Neil Hamilton, Warner Oland, Fredric March and Doris Hill are in the group.

BROADWAY

"Tropic Madness" the FBO drama starring Letatrice Joy which is showing at the Broadway theater, boasts of one of the most startling climaxes that has ever been screened.

The island on which the action takes place is of volcanic origin and the parent volcano still makes its periodical eruptions. The natives worship the "devil in the smoke mountain" and attempt to sacrifice Juanita, played by Letatrice Joy.

At the last moment the volcano breaks into violent eruption and the whole population of the island is forced to flee before the rivers of molten lava.

Letatrice Joy is said to have completed the finest performance of her career in this drama. Other members of the cast are Lena Malena, George Barrand, Henry Sedley, David Durand, and Albert Valentino, brother of the famous sheik.

WEST END

Whether his interest in Indians led Tim McCoy to make such a picture as "Sioux Blood," opening today at the West End theater, or his interest in the picture led him to familiarize himself with Indians, the fact remains that McCoy is practically an authority on the subject.

In "Sioux Blood," he had several hundred Indians with whom to work in developing an interesting story of two brothers, one reared among the Indians, the other among conditions to which he was born. The picture was filmed while the company was in camp in Glacier National park, together with the large tribe of Indians.

LACK OF STATE BANK TAXATION BEING STUDIED

BY ELWOOD SQUIRES

(United Press Staff Correspondent)
(Special to The Register)

SACRAMENTO, Calif., June 28.—(UP)—Bank taxation in California—or rather, the lack of it, is the central point of interest at the state capitol these days.

Anyone with a solution to this perplexing situation is invited to board a train for Sacramento, and state officials will probably be willing to pay for a round trip to the person who can lead them out of the difficulty. Someone once said that man is sure of but two things—death and taxes. The banks have apparently discovered how to avoid the latter.

Just when California passed a new law that the experts said would allow taxation of banks the United States supreme court came along, placed its finger on the heart of the new law and declared that portion invalid—wrecking the whole tax system and costing the state just about $2,000,000 a year in revenue. The decision said that tax exempt securities cannot be figured when computing net income and that "cooked the goose" for our bright new bank tax plan.

Because national banks are under federal jurisdiction, congress has authority to say how they may be taxed. The federal statute on this subject lays down four methods of taxing the banks, two of which have been declared unconstitutional and the other two are out of line with our tax system and that of many other states.

There is the situation and experts agree that the only solution is for congress to pass a new law, stating how banks may be taxed.

Following a meeting of the tax commission here this week, Gov. C. Young appointed State Controller Ray L. Riley to go to Washington in an effort to secure remedial legislation from congress. Riley has announced that he will attempt to obtain a complete revision of the present federal statute.

Bankers of the state will meet here in convention next week and a

Late News From Orange County Communities

Playground Organization Is Formed In La Habra

PLANE PLANT MAY BE BUILT IN FULLERTON

FULLERTON, June 28.—That Fullerton may be chosen as the site for the main manufacturing plant of the Crown Aircraft corporation, designers and builders of biplane powered with the new Kinner air-cooled motor, was announced at the meeting of the directors of the chamber of commerce in McFarland's cafe yesterday, when representatives of the concern, A. F. Freeman, W. E. Brockway and Al Leary, spoke.

Freeman told of plans and stated that the building would be 150 by 200 feet in dimensions and would cost approximately $25,000, in which one plane daily would be built. Brockway and Leary also outlined the company's plans and declared that their plane is the only one of its type being manufactured in the west. Leary, chief pilot, brought one of the new planes to Fullerton with Freeman as a passenger and directors of the chamber inspected it at the field.

The Crown Aircraft corporation is capitalized at $500,000, and grew out of the old Crown Motor Coach company. A committee was appointed to select candidates to fill the vacancies of L. O. Culp and R. T. Davies on the directorate of the chamber. Action will be taken on the matter at the next meeting.

GARDEN GROVE LIONS INSTALL NEW OFFICERS

GARDEN GROVE, June 28.—Installation of officers was held by the Garden Grove Lions club in the Woman's civic club Wednesday evening. A chicken dinner was served at 7 o'clock to 50 members and guests.

Following dinner, H. A. Lake turned the gavel over to J. W. Crill, chairman of the nominating committee who presented Emory Yundt, of Los Angeles, former deputy district governor of Lions clubs of Southern California. Mr. Yundt gave a talk on "The Relationship of Small Clubs to the Community," after which he installed the following officers: L. W. Schauer, president; W. A. Wheeler, first vice president; L. W. Doig, second vice president; Ray Johnson, third vice president; Gil Thayne, secretary; C. L. Pearson, treasurer; Soule Oertly, Lion tamer; George Lynch, tall twister; Walter Wentz and Eugene Tobias, two word directors.

J. M. Woodworth and Roy Geren were appointed as a committee to audit the books of the past year. Following the installation L. W. Schauer was presented the gavel. Dr. C. C. Violett on behalf of the Lions club, presented H. A. Lake, president of the Lions club for the past year, with a lovely gold watch.

After the meeting adjourned the Lions and their guests motored to Orange, where they attended the new theater.

CITY TO BUY BEACH TRACT FOR $247,000

HUNTINGTON BEACH, June 28.—Purchase of a 3660-foot strip of beach frontage at an aggregate cost of $247,000 by the city of Huntington Beach from the Standard Oil company and the Huntington Beach company was announced here today by Mayor S. R. Brown. As yet only a verbal agreement has been reached and the papers to legalize the transaction are being drawn up in San Francisco. The beach frontage included in the purchase lies east of the municipal pier here and is considered excellent for recreational and bathing activities.

The contract was verbally agreed upon calls for a down payment of $100,000 with installments to follow. The surplus in the city treasury will be used not only for the initial payment, but for other installments as they come due. With the city's large revenue from mineral rights on the hundreds of oil rigs within the city limits, no bond issue will be necessary to meet the payments.

The strip, two-thirds of a mile long, extends from the pier eastward to the holdings of the Mills Land and Water company. This piece of property has been divided into three sections, but will be surveyed again to prevent any possible error. The remaining 2000 odd feet of beach frontage will be surveyed soon, and the city intends to gradually secure this portion until it holds all the land.

After consideration of the oil situation it was agreed that the Huntington Beach company will retain the mineral rights but in case of production the city will control drilling and will receive a royalty of 50 per cent, thus reimbursing the city for improvements that are to be made in the future. The bluff wells in the west end, above the beach strip, have been the most productive in the town lot section.

Negotiations for the purchase have been under way for the past several months and members of the city council reached the completion of the project only yesterday at a meeting of the Standard Oil and Huntington Beach companies. Among those taking part in the negotiations were Mayor S. R. Brown, Councilmen E. G. Conrad, J. W. Mitchell, O. R. Harris and Bayard Butcher. City Engineer Merwin Rossen, T. B. Talbert, president of the Orange County Coast association and former president of the Orange county board of supervisors, and W. B. Mandeville, former president of the Huntington Beach Chamber of Commerce aided in bringing about the civic development.

Under the present plans for the use of the new municipal property the beach is not to be commercialized but utilized entirely for public enjoyment and recreational activities. Facilities for the comfort and general use of the public will be installed and the beach put in first class condition, according to city officials. It will be necessary to enact an ordinance stating the reason for which the property is being purchased, the use to which it will be put, and how it is to be paid for, councilmen declared.

The advantage with 600 and closely pursued by Yorba Linda with 250.

The present circuit will last for three more weeks, when a new league is expected to be formed. The outcome of the present race is still very much undecided as the standings show, but with the deciding games scheduled soon some team will soon have the undisputed leadership.

PLAYGROUND AT H. B. ATTRACTS MANY CHILDREN

HUNTINGTON BEACH, June 28.—The summer playground activities inaugurated on the beach two weeks ago, with Miss Mary Cannon, elementary school physical education director, as supervisor are attracting a large number of children. A great many more pupils can be handled, according to Miss Cannon.

While the majority of those who come daily are of elementary school age, a few are under school age and are also being taken care of by Miss Cannon with the supervision of their parents. The playground is equipped with swings, a merry-go-round, slides and teeter-totters.

The summer playground is an outgrowth of a demand made by the Parent-Teacher association, Woman's club, and other civic organizations. The expense is shared jointly by the elementary school and the city. Last year the project was carried out at the school grounds, but a tryout of the beach was decided on for this summer.

The first six weeks of the summer Miss Cannon will have charge of the playground activities, while during the last six weeks the beach recreational center will be handled by James Ranney, elementary school physical education instructor for boys.

SERVICES FOR ORANGE AUTO VICTIM HELD

ORANGE, June 28.—Funeral services for Tillman Anthony, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Anthony, 205 E. Palmyra avenue, were held this afternoon from the Gileglio Funeral home, with the Rev. W. B. Cole, Methodist church pastor, officiating. The body was sent to Wenona, Ill., for burial in the family plot.

Anthony, prominent in local circles, left Orange at 6 o'clock Wednesday evening to visit his sweetheart in China. Just beyond the Orange county line the small coupe went off the highway and overturned. A motorist, who was some distance behind, saw the cloud of dust and hurried to the scene of the tragedy but Anthony was almost instantly killed, his neck being broken. The body was taken to the Richardson and Henry funeral parlors in China for the inquest.

Anthony attended the Orange union high school and later was employed by Moore and Vandermaast. Later, he had been employed in Fullerton but was to have started on a new position yesterday. The young man is survived by his parents and three sister, Mrs. Earl Phillips, of Orange, Mrs. E. E. Weiss, of Fullerton, and Mrs. W. C. Cummings, of Anaheim.

New Officers Of Lions Group In Orange Inducted

ORANGE, June 28.—New officers for the Orange Lions club were elected and installed this week. They are as follows: Roy Edwards, president; L. H. Intorf, first vice president; Cliff Short, second vice president; Joe Woodside, secretary-treasurer; Lyle Richards, lion tamer; Ivan Swanger, tall twister; George Bartley and W. S. Lentz, directors.

FIRE HYDRANT, CHLORINE BIDS OPENED BY CITY

ANAHEIM, June 28.—Reading of two sets of bids, one for 35 fire hydrants and the other for 36,000 pounds of chlorine gas, were the chief items considered at the Anaheim council meeting held last night.

The city treasurer read the financial report, which was accepted. Two librarians, upon the recommendation of the head librarian, were returned for another year while the term of a patrolman was continued.

Six firms of Southern California submitted bids for supplying the city with 35 fire hydrants, some of 42-inch bore and the rest of 48-inch bore. The final choice will be announced at the next meeting. This will also be done with the two bidders for supplying Anaheim with chlorine.

The scheduled second reading on ordinance limited the speed of trains in the city limits of Anaheim as held over to the next meeting for further consideration.

BOYS LECTURED
ANAHEIM, June 28.—Two boys, charged with stealing articles from a local store, were lectured and returned to their homes yesterday by police officers.

HEAVY OIL TO BE HANDLED BY MUTUAL GROUP

HUNTINGTON BEACH, June 28.—Organization of a local association for the purpose of creating and supporting a market for oil of 15 degrees gravity or less has just been completed here, according to J. J. Elliott, who was elected executive secretary of the association.

The concern is said to be a co-operative one, and has already entered into an agreement with the Petrol corporation for the purchase of the crude oil at a specified price on delivery. The old Eureka refinery on Bandini boulevard has been leased to handle the output in that field, and from any other field in and around Los Angeles.

Officers of the new organization are E. A. Neiger, president; J. J. Elliott, executive secretary, and Thomas E. Hodges, general manager. It is known as the Co-operative Oil Producers association.

An effort will be made to have all producers of heavy oil join the association for their mutual protection. Last winter heavy crude oil sold as low as 30 cents, some wells being compelled to close down altogether, while others operated at a substantial loss.

Stolen Anaheim Roadster Found

ANAHEIM, June 28.—Anthony Felix, who had his roadster stolen Monday afternoon, has his car back. It was found parked on Lincoln avenue beyond Brookhurst.

Felix, an orange picker, reported finding the car gone. Wednesday, E. W. Pohlman, who lives on Lincoln boulevard, saw an abandoned car near his house, which proved to be the missing machine. According to Mrs. Pohlman, several cars have been left near the same spot and stripped of all accessories.

HOME IN TUSTIN DESTROYED BY FIRE

TUSTIN, June 28.—A fire, which destroyed the home of Francis Selway on the Holmes ranch on Irvine boulevard, Tustin, occurred this morning at 7:30 o'clock. The fire originated in the kitchen and spread rapidly throughout the house. The occupants were unable to save anything. The house was a California style, two-story frame house.

EVENING WRAPS

For warm summer evenings, a sea-foam green velvet cape, made hip-length, ties around the shoulders but hangs only down the back.

OFFICERS FOR GROUP NAMED ON THURSDAY

LA HABRA, June 28.—Formation of a permanent playground organization for children in La Habra was accomplished at a special meeting called last night. The organization is made up of members of all the prominent organizations of La Habra.

Mrs. E. E. McClure, former president of the La Habra Parent-Teacher association, was elected president. H. H. Peabody, commander of the La Habra American Legion, became vice president of the group, and E. E. Day, superintendent of schools, was elected secretary and treasurer.

The playground will be conducted at both the Lincoln and Washington schools of the city, with a half day of supervised play at each playground. Entire charge of the playgrounds is under Mr. Day, with H. C. Cox, who has been in playground work for six years, in charge of the active programs for the children.

A committee appointed to draw up by-laws for the organization includes William Snow, Ira Weiss and H. Holgerafer.

Very dirty pans?
No, very hard water

The pots and pans weren't very greasy. But the water was hard. It mixed with the soap, and formed scum! How could pots and pans get clean? They just had to stay greasy! They needed a cleaner! That was before Melo's time. Now hard water, softened with Melo, becomes a very fine cleaner, with or without soap. Dirty ring? Scum? Grease? All gone. Soap much more effective! Pots and pans? Shiny and gleaming! At 10c a can you can afford to buy three—one for the kitchen, laundry, and bathroom.

Cudahy's Puritan Ham

Finer Flavor because ripened naturally

Cudahy's Puritan Ham is distinguished for its finer flavor and delicious tenderness, and it owes these qualities to the special Cudahy method of curing.

This exacting method of preparing the young meats selected for Puritan, slowly and naturally diffuses the rich, meat juices without forcing or hurrying. The result is like tree-ripened fruit, compared to artificial ripening.

You will be delighted with Cudahy's Puritan Ham. It is so easy to prepare; you do not need to parboil. Puritan ham stands high in food value and necessary muscle and tissue building elements; and is so easily digested. At your dealer's.

THE TINYMITES

STORY BY HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES BY KNICK
REG. U. S. PAT. OFF.

When Scouty had a nice long trip upon the hopper he cried, "Tip! This surely is a heap of fun. Please jump me up some more. It doesn't seem so hard at all, to hang on tight. I will not fall. Let's do some funny little jumps and make the others roar." So Mister Hopper did just that. Upon the ground, he'd lie down flat, and then he'd leap into the air. It was a sight to see. At last, there, Clowny yelled, "Hey, there, I'd like to hop up in the air. I would appreciate it much if you would just take me." The hopper seemed to think this fine and so the Tinies formed in line. "You all shall have a turn at it," said Scouty. "Clowny's next." And as fat Clowny rose in air, it brought to him a sudden scare. The hopper hopped so funny that the little tot was vexed. "I've had enough," he quickly cried. "I do not like this sort of ride. It makes me rather dizzy."

Kindly take me to the ground." And down they went to his delight. He was so scared he looked a fright. The Tinies then noticed that a hawk was flying round. "Don't let that bird get hold of you. There is no telling what he'll do," cried Scouty. Then the hawk swooped down and grabbed the hopper quick. It took the Tinies by surprise. Why, they could hardly realize what happened. Then brave Copy cried, "That was a real mean trick. 'I'll fix that ugly hawk. You bet! A sudden shock he's going to get." Then Copy grabbed a stone and hit the monstrous bird, kerplop. "There, now, that that!" he loudly cried. The hawk's mouth opened up real wide, and he was so dumbfounded that he let the hopper drop.

(A new surprise comes in the next story.)

Missing Letter Links

RULES

1—In playing golf on the Missing Letter Links the object is to change one word to another in a given number of strikes which is par. For example, to go from TEE to PIN in three strokes sounds hard but isn't: TEE-TIE-PIE-PIN.

2—Change but one letter at a time and be sure the word you have used is one in good usage.

3—The order of the letters cannot be changed.

HAIR to BALD—Par is six on this hole, but it's possible to get a HAIR to BALD eagle.

30 MILLION IS SPENT YEARLY ON PROPAGANDA

WASHINGTON, June 28.—(UP)—

Publicity and advertising activities conducted by power corporation groups on a nation-wide scale and costing about $30,000,000 annually stood revealed today in records of the federal trade commission after a 14-month investigation.

Revealing its public hearings for the summer, the commission announced it has completed its inquiry into propaganda by utilities and will take up the financial structure of the power industry when hearings are resumed in the fall.

Expenditure of approximately $30,000,000 has been accounted for by reports of propaganda carried on by the National Electric Light association, its state subsidiary bureau and private corporations together with estimated $28,000,000 annual advertising bill paid by individual power companies.

In the course of its exhaustive inquiry, made under the Walsh senate resolution, the commission examined witnesses from every section of the country, introduced more than 4,400 exhibits and started the country with its revelations of the extent of power industry propaganda efforts.

The commission's authority to subpoena documents and question witnesses was challenged in one instance by the Electric Bond & Share company, powerful New York holding corporation for a large number of utility companies in all parts of the United States. That case is still pending in New York courts, but has not halted the inquiry.

Probably the most sensational evidence disclosed by the hearings were the recent revelations that the International Paper company, a combined newsprint and utility group, had investments in newspapers aggregating more than $100,000,000 in eight cities.

1. Wide distribution of utility pamphlets and other propaganda in schools with the assistance of educators.

2. Extensive publicity against public ownership in newspapers, pamphlets, etc., some of which were published by the Smithsonian institution.

3. Maintenance in nearly every state of a propaganda bureau to direct anti-public ownership campaigns in co-operation with the National Electric Light association.

4. Establishment in Washington of the joint committee of national utilities association which spent $400,000 to defeat the Walsh resolution and Boulder Dam and Muscle Shoals legislation.

5. Employment of about 50 educators to work with the N. E. L. A. in various aspects of its publicity efforts.

6. Surveillance of a number of state legislators and employment of lobbyists to obtain copies of bills and defeat legislation considered inimical to the power industry.

NEW LINGERIE TOUCH

The lingerie touches which Paris couturiers are insisting upon this year give a light, feminine touch to this practical frock of navy blue maroon, created by Lucile Paray.

LAGUNA BEACH ARTISTS PLAN FAIR EXHIBIT

LAGUNA BEACH, June 28.—The art exhibit now being shown at the Laguna Beach gallery will not be taken to the county fair as has been the practice in previous years, but an entirely different collection of paintings will be shown. This is the decision of the art association members the reason being that they do not wish to disturb the show until another one is ready to take its place. That will not be until after the fair.

William W. Riddell is asking that artists send paintings to the fair grounds or to him prior to August 28.

Several artists of note have been recent visitors in this city, among them being Stark Davis, of Chicago, member of the Palette and Chisel club, who is visiting William W. Riddell and who has painted a large decorative canvas for his friend's hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Payne have been visiting friends in this city. They are among those who pioneers in getting the art association under way. Portraits have recently been hung in the White House cafe of Mr. Payne, Frank W. Cuprien, Thomas L. Hunt, William Wendt, Karl Yens, Loren Holmwood, William A. Griffith, Anna A. Hillis, Hugh Irvine, Ruth Peabody, Anthony Anderson and Stephen Chalmers. The latter is a writer who spends much of his time in this city.

"One of the most important lessons of life is that success must continually be won and

—Charles Evans Hughes.

WATER COMING AND WE MUST BE PREPARED

The Swing-Johnson bill has legally and authoritatively gone into effect, and Santa Ana and in fact, most all of Southern California, is prepared to do its part in taking advantage of the situation which this project presents. Santa Ana has become a part of the Metropolitan Water District and this district plans to bring water from the Colorado Canyon for domestic purposes to serve the great and growing cities here in the Southwest.

While this water, we understand, cannot be taken for irrigation purposes, at the same time it can be used for domestic purposes, and thereby relieve a certain amount of water for irrigation which may be used now for domestic purposes. At any rate, it will furnish such a supply as to insure that the cities for a long period of time, will be able to gain their increased volume from the Colorado source and thereby relieve the Orange County basin from further loss from the municipalities.

In a way this project may be made of incalculable value to Orange County. Incidentally, the Metropolitan Water District will need a great storage basin. It is admitted that without question, the great reservoir which would be used at the Prado site for the dam in the Santa Ana Valley, would be the natural and logical site for the Metropolitan area to use for such storage purposes. There is nothing to interfere whatever with its being used, for both the Orange County flood control and water conservation in the Santa Ana valley, plus a storage basin for the Metropolitan Water District. These two things are coming. Good business would suggest that they be tied together. It would save Santa Ana and Orange County a great deal of money. It would save the Metropolitan Water District a great deal of money. In other words, Orange County would be furnishing to the Metropolitan District a basin that was already dammed and prepared for its use, and this would go far to compensate Orange County for their investment.

Of course, we recognize that a dam which would be sufficient for the flood control and conservation for Orange County would not be adequate as a storage basin for the Metropolitan area. But it might be made so by increasing its capacity through raising the dam, and what we are insisting is that this might be kept in mind.

This, of course, could be determined later, but good business would suggest that when there is a possibility of combining values in one cost it should be done, and it is certainly wise to keep such possibilities in sight even though we did not invest an additional dollar with that in mind.

It is entirely possible that with this in view a number of other matters which have been more or less serious in their import, could be worked out more easily at the upper site than it was thought they could originally. We believe this view of the matter has not been given the consideration which it justifies. We are certain that since the Boulder Dam bill has gone into operation that we can expect the joint interest of the two to be urged.

Women prevented an aviator from allowing a monkey to drop out of his plane on a parachute in New York the other day. They'll still let a man make a monkey of himself, though.

NO PARADE FOR MR. YOUNG

It is hard for Mayor Walker of New York to give up parades for returning notables. Sometime ago it was decided that the matter of parades was being overdone. Channel swimmers, transatlantic flyers, and some other questionable celebrities were met at the boat by the mayor's reception committee and paraded along Broadway to the tooting of horns, the hurrahing of crowds, and the showering of paper from office windows. It was getting to be a joke.

Then, a real celebrity came home. Owen D. Young came back as the hero who made possible a reparation plan upon which Germany and the allies have agreed. The mayor of New York cannot resist giving him a reception and parade, but Mr. Young wisely demurs. "The time to celebrate," writes Mr. Young in answer to the mayor's proposal for a reception, "is when the new plan is made effective by the nations, which necessarily includes favorable action by our own government."

That's fine. Mr. Young sees through the whole foolishness of the business. He courteously refused to be exposed as a showman. For a man of his character it would be a cheapening performance. He resisted with a fine courtesy what so many crave, an endorsement for an experiment which remains to be tried out. There has been too much of trumpeting of schemes which look very well on paper but which petered out in the application. The moment some one starts something in the way of a plan or an organization somebody writes it up in the magazines, the world is set to talking and gossiping, and a few years after we learn that it was nothing but a paper project which died aborning. Mr. Young is too sane and too practical to become the victim of such possible folly. We note the fact for the edification and the emulation of all experimenters and all seekers of notoriety and publicity.

PARIS' GROWING PAINS

The development plans of no other city in the world would be quite as interesting as are those of Paris. What other city would have its plans discussed in the Atlantic Monthly as Professor Albert Gerauld discusses "The Future of Paris" in the July number?

"Paris belongs to us, as a beloved memory or as a dream. The world's great show places are the world's common heritage; the local inhabitants are only their custodians, and have no right to deface them under the plea, 'Can't we do what we like with our own?'" says the author.

But Paris is suffering growing pains. It has become greatly hampered by restrictions so that just outside the restricted city limits

A vast suburban zone has grown haphazard, unsanitary, and appallingly mean, bearing everywhere, like the mark of the beast, the imprint of the money lenders inevitably fosters hatred, the Zone of Ugliness has become the Red Belt, a threatening camp of Communists encircling the capital. One billion francs have already been voted as an emergency measure, for the relief of les mal lotis, the victims of unprincipled realtors.

No one wants Paris to develop along that line, and Paris' most devoted lovers do not want the city to grow along American skyscraper lines which Professor Gerauld deplores at some length. Only those who would gain from the increased land values will disagree.

The situation of Paris is complicated by politics. The nation is jealous of the growth of the city even though it is proud of and devoted to the city, the politicians are primarily interested in re-election. At present a commission is engaged in the revision of the Building Code of 1902. "If," says Professor Gerauld, "as we feverently hope, it decides resolutely against the skyscraper, a whole train of consequences will automatically follow." He hopes for an acceleration of the present tendency toward a Greater Paris.

Those of us who do not live in Paris and look to it for a great place—for a "bat" into realms of history and beautiful creations of man would probably all like to see it stay as it is. But we can hardly blame those who live and work here from wanting it to be a bit convenient and modern.

It was an interesting experience to climb five long flights of stairs to the charming apartment of one of our friends in Paris, realizing that the building was several hundred years old, formerly a convent connected with one of the oldest churches in Paris. But there is no doubt that one who lives in such a place continually has a love for old Paris which inspires real sacrifice and devotion.

A Vocational Risk

San Diego Union

Journalism has been somewhat hardly dealt with in the special session of congress, now in recess. When Senator Reed of Pennsylvania, widely known as Secretary Mellon's political valet, got up to denounce a newspaper article that did not please him, he referred to journalism as "this so-called profession." This wounded the feelings of some of the newspapermen present, and amused others—depending upon what they individually thought of Senator Reed as an authority. A certain amount of acrimony was aroused by the reference. This was topped off yesterday with a much more severe blow.

It seems, according to researches conducted by the Associated Press, that journalists run far more than the ordinary risk of becoming inmates of Congress. According to the findings published yesterday, only the law has furnished more congressmen than journalism has. Approximately 12 1-2 per cent of the members of the United States Senate were once newspapermen of one sort or another—i. e., "journalists." Some of them began as cub reporters. Others inherited newspapers, or bought them, or took them over for bad debts. Most of them entered journalism innocently enough—like the boy who smoked a cigarette, they had no idea of whether that apparently trivial first step would lead them. And now they are Senators. It is estimated that 25 or 30 members of the lower house have a similar case history.

Schools of journalism commonly represent this "so-called profession" as presenting many opportunities for advancement. In common fairness, they must now forewarn their prospects that it also has its dangers.

Prosperity Built on Autos

Imperial Valley Press

The average reader, no doubt, is getting rather tired of those ever-recurring statistics that show the constant rise in American automobile production. We take our pre-eminence in the automotive field for granted now; there is no longer any thrill in learning how many thousands more cars were turned out this month than last.

Nevertheless, these figures are important. They touch the lives of all of us in one way or another. More and more, the general prosperity of the whole country is becoming tied up with the prosperity of the automobile manufacturers. If business slumps in the Detroit factories, it will slump in the rest of the country a little later on.

A set of figures recently compiled by the Central National Bank of Cleveland in its organ, The Outline of Business, illustrate the close tie-up between the automotive world and general business. Manufacturers of rubber products, for example, sell 85 per cent of their total product to the automobile industry.

Sixty-three per cent of the plate glass made in this country is made for automobiles.

Eighty per cent of the gasoline produced in America is used in automobiles.

Twenty-six per cent of all the aluminum the country produces, 21 per cent of its nickel, 14 per cent of its steel and 12 per cent of its copper are used by the automobile industry. In addition, the rubber industry, which depends directly on autos, uses 299,500,000 pounds of American cotton fabric each year.

With those facts in mind, ask yourself what would happen to the general level of American business if the auto industry should suddenly fall on bad times.

You're right. We'd have a very bad coast-to-coast slump.

That being the case, you'll be relieved to know that the present year's production is breaking all records, and shows no signs of slackening.

That's Willie's Little Weakness Now!

More Truth Than Poetry

By James J. Montague

COUPONS

The coupons I've collected since
Some twenty-five years back
Would stock the palace of a prince
With jars and bric-a-brac;
They'd bring in trade, as like as not
Gold watches, diamond rings
And dinner sets, I must have got
A million of the things.

When they were given me I'd say,
With a contented smile,
I'll have enough of these some day
To make the things worth while.
And when my funds were running low
And heavy grew my debt
It always comforted me to know
I had those coupons yet.

I dreamed of things that they would buy—
All sorts of useful stuff—
When I had gathered a supply
I felt was large enough.
But though I tucked them all away
In many a secret place
When I went seeking them today
They'd vanished into space.

I cannot get them any more,
The man with lofty brow
Who clerks in the tobacco store
Says "Nope. No coupons now."
So life has lost its zest and lift
No hope lies on ahead
My only chance to practice thrift
Alas, for me, is dead.

PEACE AT LAST

The war department has decided that in the event of war the soldiers will be billeted in first class hotels. That will make war impossible by making it too costly.

HOT HUES

Those ties designed by Mayor Walker which were spilled out of a plane on Iceland must have pleasantly raised the temperature of the island.

Why Do We Lay Off
Workers?By WILLIAM TRUFANT FOSTER and WADDILL CATCHINGS

Why was the basic output of goods, in 1921, twenty per cent below the output of 1918? Why do we ever curtail production in general—bank furnaces, shut down mills, throw men out of work? For one reason, and one only. Because we cannot sell our goods to the people who want to use them at prices which make continued production possible.

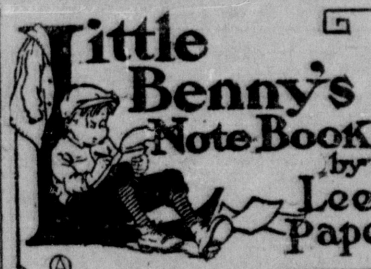

The reason we cannot sell as much as we can make seems plain enough to the plain people. It is because they lack the money. It is not because they refuse to buy. There never is a consumers' strike.

The one thing that is needed, above all others, to sustain a forward movement of business is enough money in the hands of consumers. With our financial world as it is today, let it be known that there will be buyers for any producible goods, and the goods will be produced.

If anyone appeared in Chicago tomorrow morning with plenty of cash or credit, and an order for almost anything—say, a thousand pairs of silk-knee breeches with diamond buckles—the order would be filled promptly. It would be just as easy to have a thousand whaling vessels launched on Lake Michigan.

See that consumers have the money, and organized business will look out for the rest. There will be no shortage of money on the producing side. The credit and investment world is able and eager to take care of that. A willing buyer does not have to wait long; but a willing seller may have to wait forever.

Why not, have you got a cramp

Which I did, changing it from

Meaning was I redy yet, and I

Whats up now? pop sed, and I

Which I quick did, changing it

Thoughts On Modern Life

By Glenn Frank

TRAINING FOR BUSINESS

A young man has just come to me to complain of the fact that in a School of Commerce, in which he hoped to prepare for a business career, he has been obliged to study many things that seem to him not to have direct application to the job he will probably have to do for the first five or ten years after he leaves his university.

He would like to spend all of his time studying so-called "practical" courses.

Here are some of the things I said
to him:

Don't let anyone fool you into thinking that "business is business."

Business is far more than business. Business is business, yes. But business is also politics. Business is sociology. Business is psychology.
Business is international relations.
Business is production and distribution, but business is also part and parcel of the whole civilization in which it operates.

The social order is so in which the business order is planted.

Business is both influencing and being influenced by the civilization in which it operates.

If you hope to become a really great business man, you will have to know much beyond the borders of your business.

The really distinguished business leaders of our time—the Owen D.
Youngs and the Walter Giffords and their kind—are men who bring the breadth of statesmen to the formulation of their business policies.

And even the young man who will never become a great business man must gain some insight into the hundred and one political and social forces that affect business and are affected by business so that, as a subordinate, he may be able to know what the Owen D. Youngs and the Walter Giffords of his time are talking about when they outline policies he is to help carry out.

The greatest mistake the average young man makes, when he sets out to prepare himself for a business career, is to spend too much of his time taking college courses that teach him the various proceed-ures of business because modern business is changing so swiftly that by the time he leaves school and takes a job the procedures he learned in his business school have been thrown on the scrap heap.

You need to know the anatomy of the business system; you need to know enough of the basic techniques of business to enable you to understand the language of the business world; but, above all, you need to gain some insight into the forces —technical, scientific, administrative, political, and social—that are continuously remaking the business system.

Otherwise, you may become an effective routinist, but you will never achieve great business leadership.

OUR CHILDREN

By ANGELO PATRI

I DON'T KNOW

Children worry their parents by an endless variety of mistakes. Temper and disobedience, idleness, bad manners, and worse. "What shall I do with him? How can we make him what we want him to be?" That plea rises from thousands of troubled hearts every day, and I must be honest and say, "I don't know."

It is a mistake to set laws and rules for the training and education of children and so incline people to believe that what is good for one child, for a group of children, is good for every child.
It may be that the one particular child of your heart is the only one in a host with whom the established principle won't work.

When you discover that the usual treatment fails instead of trying to force its success, stop and consider the child. Study what he is doing. Study what you are thinking and doing about what he does. It may be your thought that is wrong and not that of the child. Each child is different in greater or less degree, from his brothers and sisters. The small and very precious difference makes all the world of difference to the child. In training him, educating him, that difference must be preserved so the child's individuality may be held sacred.

No child will be successful if he is forced to be a copy of some one else no matter how fine that someone else may be. Father may be a fine professional man and his children quite opposite in ability and ultimate power. They may be industrial workers, or artists, or mechanics and not a lawyer or a doctor or anything like them, in the group. Father and mother may both be working folk and one or more of their children be scholars, scientists, professional people of high standing. There is no set rule that nature follows.

A few broad principles seem to come clear through the mystery and secrecy of life and upon these we build as securely as we can.
What shall be done with this wayward one, this sullen one, this headless one? I don't know. What kind of a child is he truly? What secrets did nature pack away within his secret places? Only careful, honest, unselfish, unbiased searching can disclose that. Patiently study the child and learn why he did what he did, why he wanted what he seemed to want, why he took what you thought was the wrong road when you had so thoughtfully opened the right one.

Ask the doctor to help. Ask the teacher and the psychologist to aid in the study you are making. Read all the good books you can get on the subject. But always, and always, study the child that you have and try to stop your endeavor to create a new one.

Search well in your mind. Are you picturing the kind of child you wish this to be and bending every energy to make him that?
Or are you honestly keeping your hands off—correcting, guiding, advising, holding up a standard of character by example as well as precept—doing your best to make clear the way for this child that he may be the best kind of child of his kind? That's what you want. The best kind of child of his kind. There is no rule. But there are a few sound principles.
Follow them and follow your child.
The way will open.

BATTLE OF MONMOUTH

One hundred and fifty-one years ago today, June 28, 1778, the British were defeated in the Revolutionary War battle of Monmouth by Americans under George Washington.

The English army, under Sir Henry Clinton, had evacuated Philadelphia and reached Freehold,
Monmouth county, N. J., June 28.
Washington, following closely, resolved to attack Clinton's left wing, 8000 strong, marching in the rear, and detailed General Charles Lee with 6000 troops to assail its flank until the main division could come up.

Lee advanced accordingly, but, instead of attacking, intentionally wasted time in feinting and futile maneuvers, and, after a little skirmishing, ordered a general retreat.

Rushing forward, Washington rebuked Lee, rallied the demoralized forces and checked the advance of the British.

The English then fell back and took up a strong position, but were forced to withdraw to the heights of Middletown.

The Americans lost 362 in killed,
